WE ARE...

When asked "What does the phrase 'we are Del Mar' mean to you?", we received many different replies. "It means our school.", Dennis Fought, junior; "It means US!", Andre Andrade, sophomore; "It means, hey-we're here together so let's celebrate together.", Janine Cantu, junior.

As you can see the phrase "We are Del Mar!" means many different things to many different people. It is this difference of opinion which gives the 'Del' personality and individuality. Yet the fact that this phrase means anything at all to these people, gives Del Mar unity. We see this unity in a special form, disguised as school spirit. We see spirit among the different classes, faculty, administration, students, and athletes. Therefore, we will pose this question to you, "What does 'We are Del Mar' mean to you?", in hopes that once you close this book and place it upon the shelf with all of your other yearbooks, the phrase 'We are Del Mar' will remind you of the many rallies, class projects, football games, dances, and student activities at the 'Del'. You will then ask yourself, "Was I a part of Del Mar?". Your reply: "Of course!", because WE ARE DEL MAR!

"What is a Del-martian?", you ask. Well, you can spot it wearing that faded Levi's jacket, or a pair of Guess jeans, or a football jersey, or a cheerleading uniform, or a tie, or leather pants, or even a scientist's smock. You will find this Del-martian is an active part of the "Del's" student body, faculty, or administration. "Where do you find this 'Del-martian'?", you ask. Well the best place to start is the mirror.

Halloween At The 'Del'

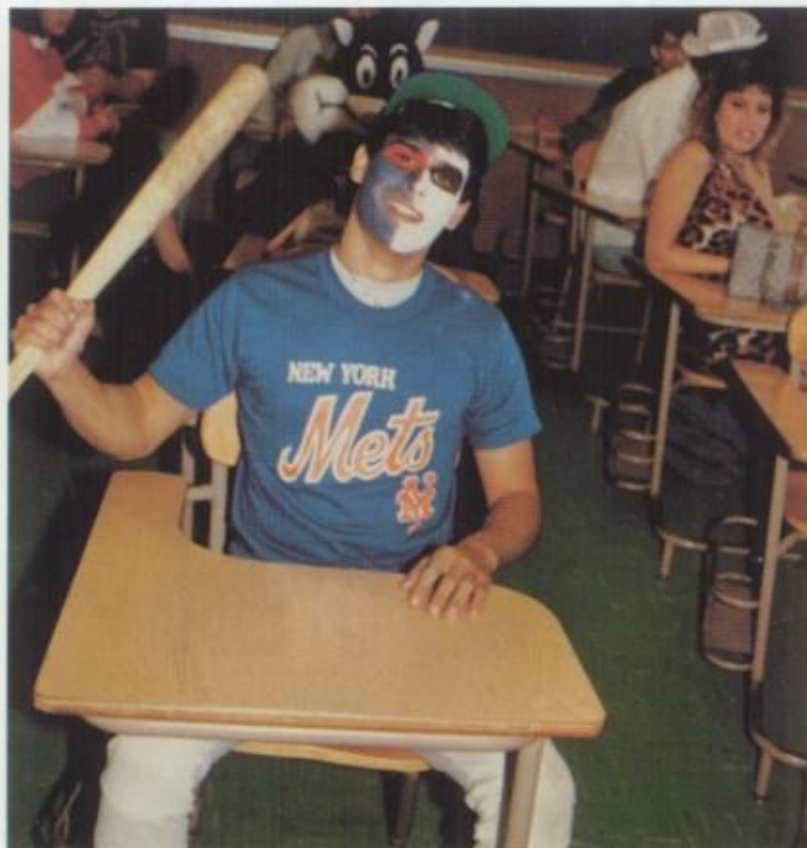

This year many students at the Del showed their spirit by dressing up for Halloween. The costumes ranged from the ever-popular black cat to a Russian spy, the costume that helped Mr. Rogers win best teacher. Seniors, Alyce McGee and Maryann Sears won 'most original' with their Del-Martian costumes. Other awards were given to juniors, Jeff Pinon and John Ohanien, who, as hippies, won 'best pair'; 'best guy' was given to senior Richie Eichhorn as Pee-Wee Herman; and 'best girl' was given to sophomore, Kellie Stewart, who posed as a flasher.

A lot of people showed up for the first school dance of the year. Papa Doo Run Run's live beach music boomed through the gym. Even though it was extremely warm, no one seemed to mind. People, students and teachers alike, were bouncing around and having a good time. The attendance at this dance was astonishing. Everyone was dancing and very few people were sitting out. The crowd seemed to enjoy the songs by the Beach Boys and 'Louie, Louie' by the Kingsmen.

When a Bellarmine student was asked what he thought about the dance, he said that Del Mar had a lot of spirit. Beside the enthusiasm at the dance, Michelle Dalbeck was crowned 'Kick-off' queen.

MEMORIES OF DON WALFORD

Good-By

Once in a lifetime a person comes along who makes a difference. A person who can change the way one looks at everyday life. One such person was Mr. Don Walford. He was a dedicated and hard working science teacher at the 'Del'. He focused his energies on making classroom activities and learning fun and interesting. He, along with Mr. Jones, participated in many Faculty-Senior games, and teacher-student activities.

On June 26, 1986, all of this changed. Mr. Walford was diagnosed as having two malignant brain tumors. His family, friends, colleagues, and students were devastated. Once the initial shock was over, the students and staff were united under the caring wings of Mr. Dominguez. As Mr. Walford was fighting a desperate battle with cancer, the entire school was working to put together a benefit in Mr. Walford's name. The girls' varsity volleyball team came up with the idea of playing a volleyball game against a team composed of the Bay Area's disk-jockeys. All of the proceeds of the benefit game and drawing are to go to the Walford family to help with the monstrous hospital bills.

The volleyball game was scheduled for November 5, 1986. Unfortunately, the tragic death of Mr. Walford occurred November 3, 1986, the Monday before the game. His death plunged the students and faculty into a frantic state of preparation for the benefit. We were desperately grasping at this last chance to help the Walfords. The entire benefit was a success. More than $7,500 dollars was donated to help the Walfords.

There is a deep admiration for Mrs. Walford, among the students and faculty. She has handled this as well as could be expected. She has received a lot of support from friends and family.

Time will cure the pain we feel for this tragic loss. Time won't, however, forget the tremendous person Don Walford was to our faculty, school, and lives.

We say it for an hour, or for years;
We say it smiling, say it choked with tears;
We say it coldly, say it with a kiss;
And yet we have no other word than this-
"Good-by"

We have no dearer word for our heart's friend,
For him who journeys to the world's far end,
And scars our soul with going, thus we say
As unto him who steps but O're the way-
"Good-by"

Alike to those we love and those we hate,
We say no more in parting. At life's gate,
To him who passes out beyond earth's sight,
We cry, as to the wanderer for a night-
"Good-by"

What Does "We Are Del Mar" Mean To You?

Alex Robbins-We are Del Mar in one word means enlightenment.

Eric Carroll-School is our alternative to t.v. ... deciding what we'll do on the weekend-we total around 5 working brain cells.

Julie Chisholm-Our "totally hot and burning cheerleaders." They are just so incredibly talented and provide entertainment for the entire crowd. They evoke strange emotion and really promote hand-eye coordination. I give them a thumbs up.

Aleta Prinzivalli-It shows that we're proud of our school and we want everyone to know it.

Steve Anderson-"We are Del Mar" should be said with pride. If one isn't aware of who Del Mar is or doesn't like Del Mar than he/she ought to be beheaded. I bleed black and gold and hate Los Gatos. That's what its all about.

Jeff Dibble- "We are Del Mar" is a way for students to express their heartfelt emotions towards their school.

Shannon Wagner-The expression "We are Del Mar" is spirit, love for our school, the awesome graduating class of '87, and a terrific sense of pride for our school

Karen Dustimer-This expression shows the spirit you show for your school, along with your enthusiasm for graduating.

Gerard Hernandez-Unity.

Jane Park-Pride in our school. Being able, without hesitation, to say "I go to Del Mar High!"

Lori Ferrente-"We are Del Mar" means "We are Del Mar!"-the proud, the number one.

Yun Yi-"We are Del Mar" means pride and warmth. Something we can stand on with pride.

Shannon Coon-"We are Del Mar" is a statement that sounds really good at football and basketball games because it rhymes.

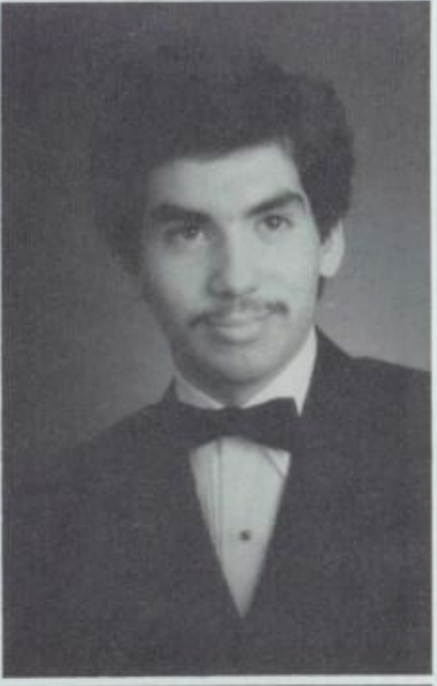

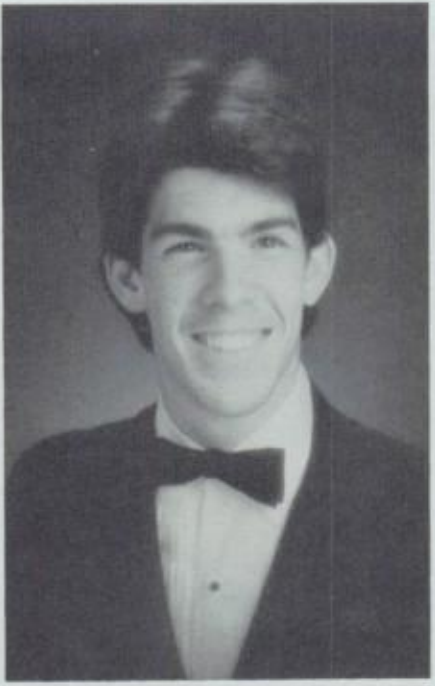

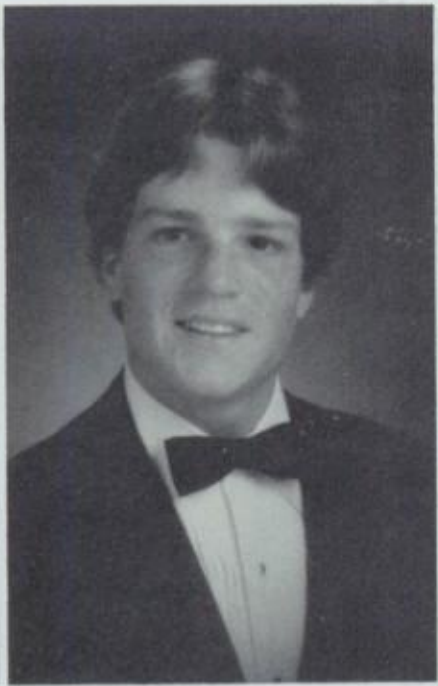

Julianne Chisholm-Del Mar is so mixed, the only way to accurately describe it is to see it.

Susan McGuiness-"We are Del Mar" means team spirit and a cool school.

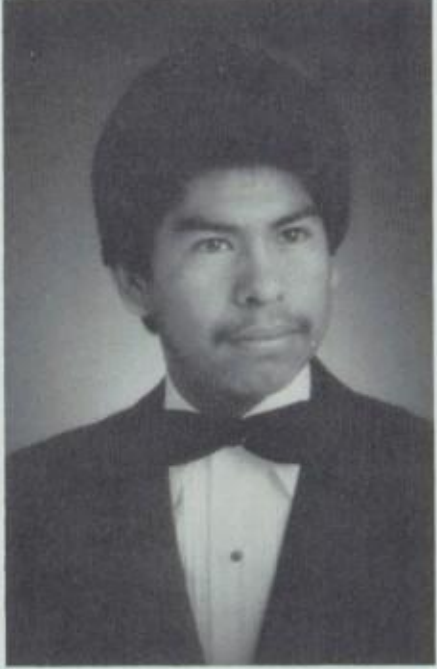

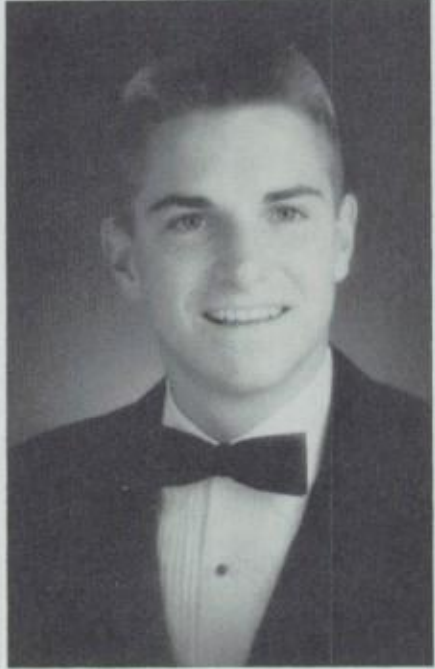

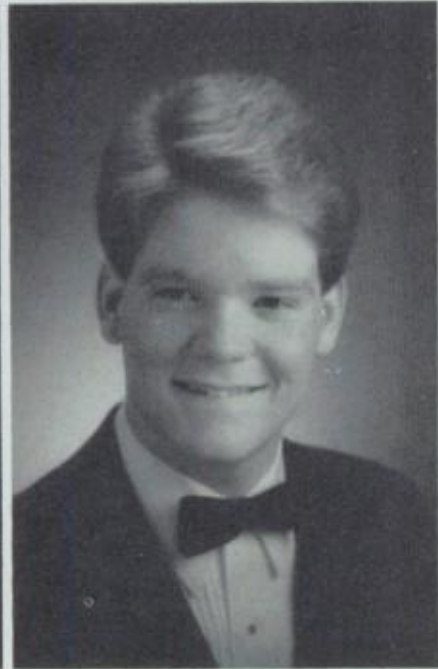

Nashell Meyer-"We are Del Mar" means Friends and Friendship Forever!!

Debbie Parkes-"We are Del Mar" means Yearbook! Stress! School! Stress!! Basketball! Stress, Stress! But most importantly it means Friends! Friendships! No Stress!!

Being On The Top

Katie Cook (#1) and John Mulder (#2) are academically the top two students in this year's graduating class. We on the yearbook staff realize that both Katie and John have tough and time consuming schedules. For this simple reason it is almost impossible to locate either one of them. Therefore, for those of you who don't see or may not even have heard of Katie or John, we took the time to corner these two for an interview.

Here are a few facts about Katie and John. When asked to describe what types of classes they were taking this year, both agreed that their AP (advanced placement) courses were tough. Katie, "... interesting teachers, which make learning and work enjoyable." John, "... difficult, challenging, fascinating, but well-worth it."

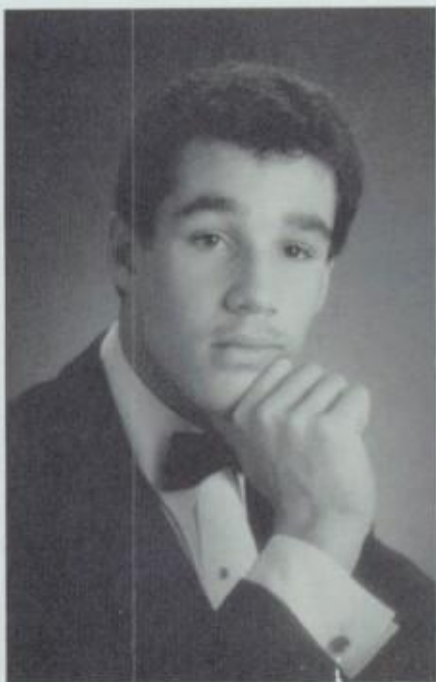

Even with taking on some of the most challenging courses at Del Mar, both Katie and John find time to participate in a few extra-curricular activities. Katie enjoys outdoor activities. She plays on both the school volleyball and softball teams. In her spare time you can find her taking on snow-capped mountains with only a pair of skis and poles, or just playing with little children. John, on the other hand, works on many different science projects. He is currently working on a Space Station Proximity Simulator. In his spare time he enjoys reading, especially science fiction novels.

Both Katie and John have high aspects for the future. Katie hopes to go to Stanford or Washington State and become an elementary teacher. John hopes to attend Stanford, Berkeley, or Cal. Tech., and study Bio. Engineering.

When asked "How would you describe high school in one word or phrase?", Katie replied, "Loving learning, and having lasting friendships."; John answered, "A valuable educational experience. I liked it."

To wrap things up, both Katie and John have given, exclusively to us, their "secret formulas" for success. Katie: "Add homework; subtract sleep; study early in the morning; and don't stress (too much)." John: "I define my goals, prepare myself mentally, I then 'go to it', and finally, I try to reward myself." To both Katie and John, we are proud to recognize your academic excellence, and wish you much prosperity in the future.

I Bet You Didn't Know . . .

Here are some interesting pieces of trivia about some Seniors that we bet you've never heard before:

Mark Bufton-After living in Alaska for a year, I've always wanted to race a team of dogs.

Kristiann Rutzler-Ever since a childhood experience with an extra-terrestrial, I've craved the B-52's and stimulating congenial conversations with gel head. I hate it when they direct your head.

Valerie Solar-I once made paste in the bathtub with my best friend when I was 7.

Shannon Coon-When I was in the 5th grade, Jen Brustrom and I went to Girl Scout Camp, and one morning I woke up with a Banana Slug in my hair. It left tracks all over my face. I screamed so loud, I woke up the whole camp.

John Mulder-When I was 4 yrs. old I fell in a gutter drain in Iran. Of course, the street drains are larger than they are in the U.S.

Dana Gill-I love munching on homemade nachos and peanut butter and marshmallow sandwiches.

Dina Soldavini-When I was little I ran into a tree while flying a lined-paper kite, and in the 4th grade I cut off both eyebrows, consequently my boyfriend broke up with me.

Stephanie Hornback-Underneath my obnoxious loud mouth attitude, I am actually a shy, conservative casual kind of gal (in my own way.)

Lorraine Cerezo-I love snow skiing, sunsets are neat, someday I want to become a pro. photographer and take pictures all over the world and get paid for it, and I hate vampires.

Wendy Wilson-I love going to the beach during Winter (at night mostly) with a good friend or friends and looking for certain stars.

Sheri Dunn-When I was 2 yrs. old I had a pet alligator for 2 days. It lived in our bathtub and died because it was too cold.

Richie Eichhorn-I like to turn out the lights, look in a mirror, and chew wintergreen lifesavers with my mouth open cuz they make sparks like fireworks.

Debbie Parkes-I love to body surf (will somebody please buy me a wet suit?).

Michelle Dalbec-I want to become a pre-school teacher.

Alex Robbins-My big toe on my right foot has an ingrown nail.

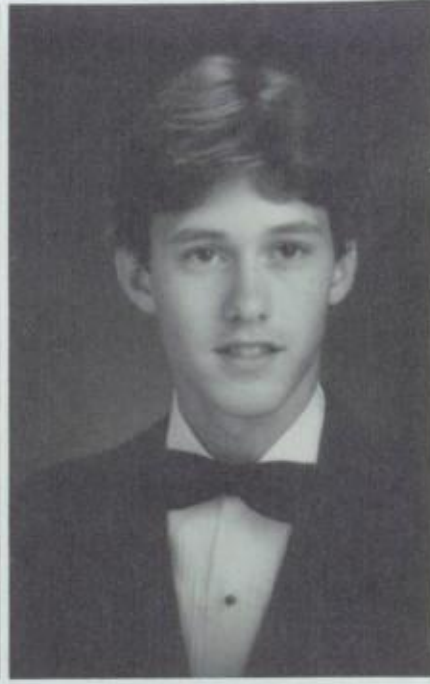

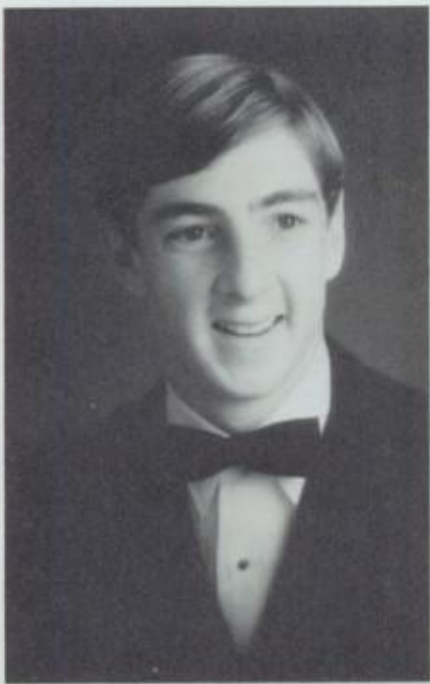

Ken Wingerden-I was born in Japan on a U.S. Naval Air Base.

Jen Brustrom-In the 6th grade Shannon Coon and I went door to door posing as employees of PG&E working on an energy conservation project.

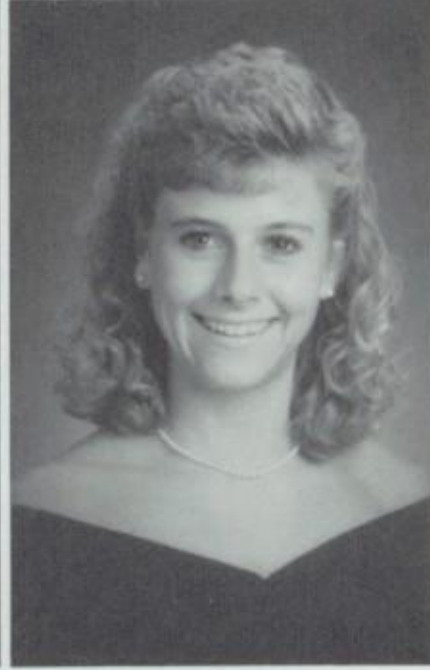

Mary Meehan-I was born in Oregon and I was a fat little kid.

Nashell Meyer-While in Europe I got on the wrong boat going to the wrong country.

Jane Park-The first time I went snow skiing I almost killed myself and I love French toast with

Men Of Del Mar High

This year's biggest and best fund raiser for the Senior class was a calendar called "The Men of Del Mar High." Making calendars as a fund raiser was started last year when a school in a nearby district created one. This year 2 other schools besides Del Mar raised a lot of money this way.

Sheri Dunn (Sr.) and Adrienne Valdez-Lanam (Jr.) coordinated the project here at Del Mar. The Junior and Senior classes were surveyed to pick the 12 month men and the cover man. Then the group spent a Saturday in the studio shooting pictures. Soon after that, the pictures and mini-biographies on each guy went to the printers. On December 3 the calendars arrived on campus and the sale began. Just over $1000 was profited by the Senior class.

When asked about the calendar, here's what some of the models had to say about them: Larry- "It was an experience."; Tom- "It was fun."; Scott- "August was sweet."; Steve- "It was an exhilarating experience in every aspect."; Mike- "I didn't want to do it at first but it turned out to be a lot of fun."

Golfer Chris

Here's a mini-profile on Golfer Chris Freeman.

Question: How did you get into golfing?

Answer: My dad took me to the club with him when I was little. I started by caddying for him, and eventually got into golfing.

Q: How often do you go golfing?

A: Once a month, but a lot more in the summer.

Q: Why do you golf?

A: For fun, to relax, it teaches patience, it's not boring 'cause you can always improve.

Q: Where do you golf?

A: There are a lot of good local places and in Northern Cal. there are great places where some friends of mine live.

Q: Do you compete?

A: I was in one tournament with my Dad's company. I was close to 2nd place in my division.

Q: What is your best score?

A: On a 18 hole course-110. On a 9 hole course-42.

Q: Do you see golf in your future? Like maybe in college or going pro?

A: I'd love to play in college, but I probably won't ever go pro. It's more for just recreation.

Q: And how about mini-golf?

A: I love it! I'm 11 under par on the mini-golf course.

Q: What are your plans for after graduation?

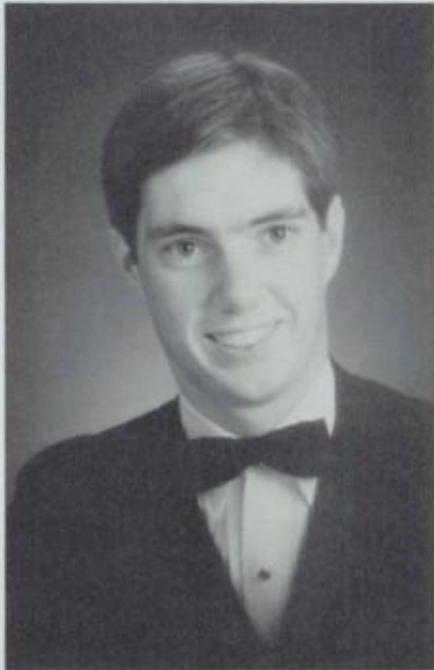

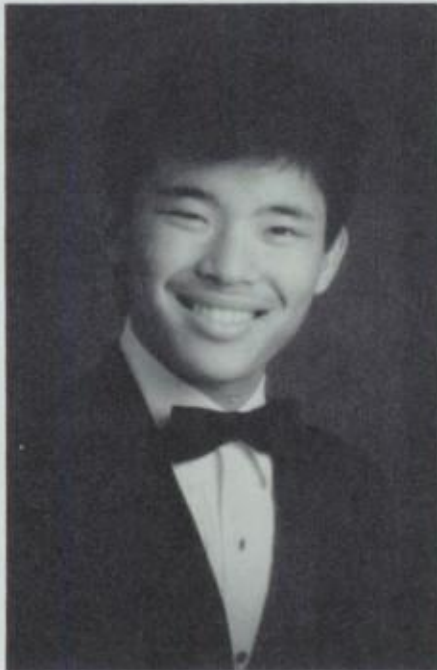

A: Junior college, a career in filming (maybe).

Q: Do you have anything to say?

A: Yes. There should be a golf team or club here at Del Mar!

Ice Skater Richie

Here's a mini-profile on Ice Skater Richie Eichorn.

Question: How long have you been skating?
Answer: 6 years competitively.

Q: How did you get into skating?
A: I saw a show in Madison Garden in New York City and loved the ice skating part.

Q: Why do you skate now?
A: For myself, to relax. I feel creative.

Q: What is your schedule?
A: 3:30 in the morning for a few hours and 5:00 or 7:00 to 8:30 in the evening 6 days a week.

Q: What do you have to sacrifice?
A: Sleep! Although it's not my main priority in life so I do not sacrifice grades.

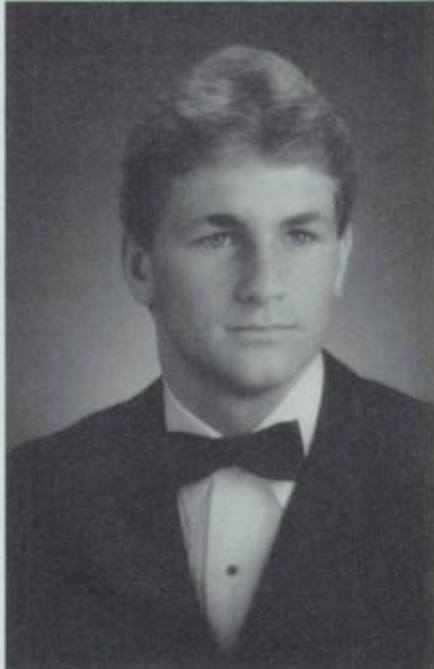

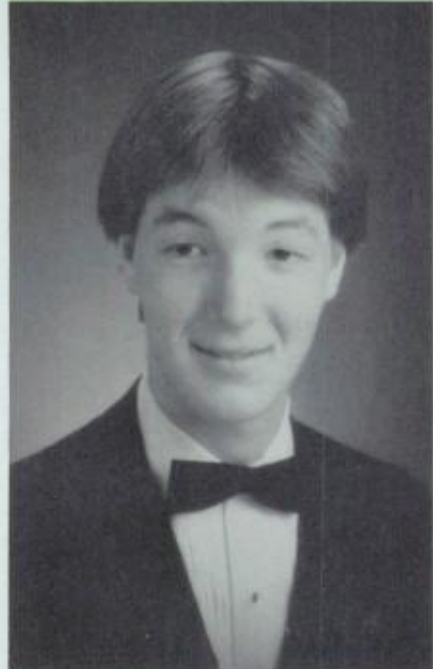

Q: Is it worth it?
A: Oh, yeah! I have no regrets.

Q: What are your goals as far as skating is concerned?
A: Olympics 1988! I want to go on to do shows, tour around, Europe maybe.

Q: What are your plans for after graduation?
A: College (state), and Ice Skating shows this summer, hopefully.

Q: And for the future?
A: Lots of Ice shows, maybe get into acting, I'd like to design clothes.

Q: Do you have anything to say?
A: Yes. Thanks to those who have supported me, I won't forget you!

Future Enterprisers

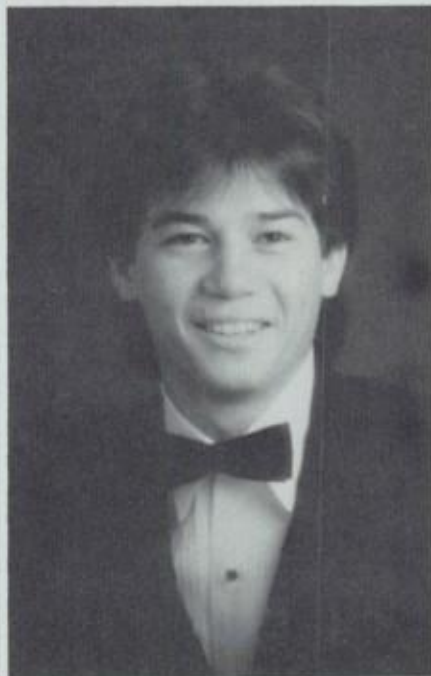

As part of the Seniors' graduation requirements, they are to take a semester of Economics. During this semester, they learn about how the U.S. economics program works and how the world functions within the system. As part of the economics learning program, the students work with Junior Achievement to produce a product and market it effectively.

This year, one of the products was a sweatshirt that advertised Del Mar across the front. These sweatshirts were sold in black and white (both with gold letters) for $12.00 each. The students advertised through fliers, posters, the daily bulletin and best of all, by word of mouth. Economics teacher, Jim Hamm, admitted that he didn't expect the product to sell. But ironically, the sweatshirts sold out and even went into a second order for the people who missed out the first time.

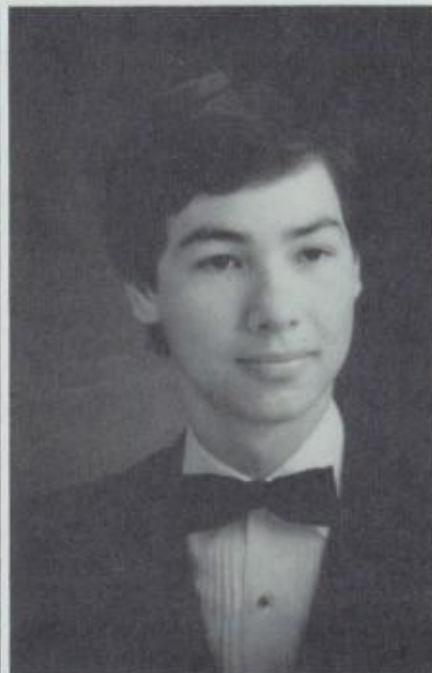

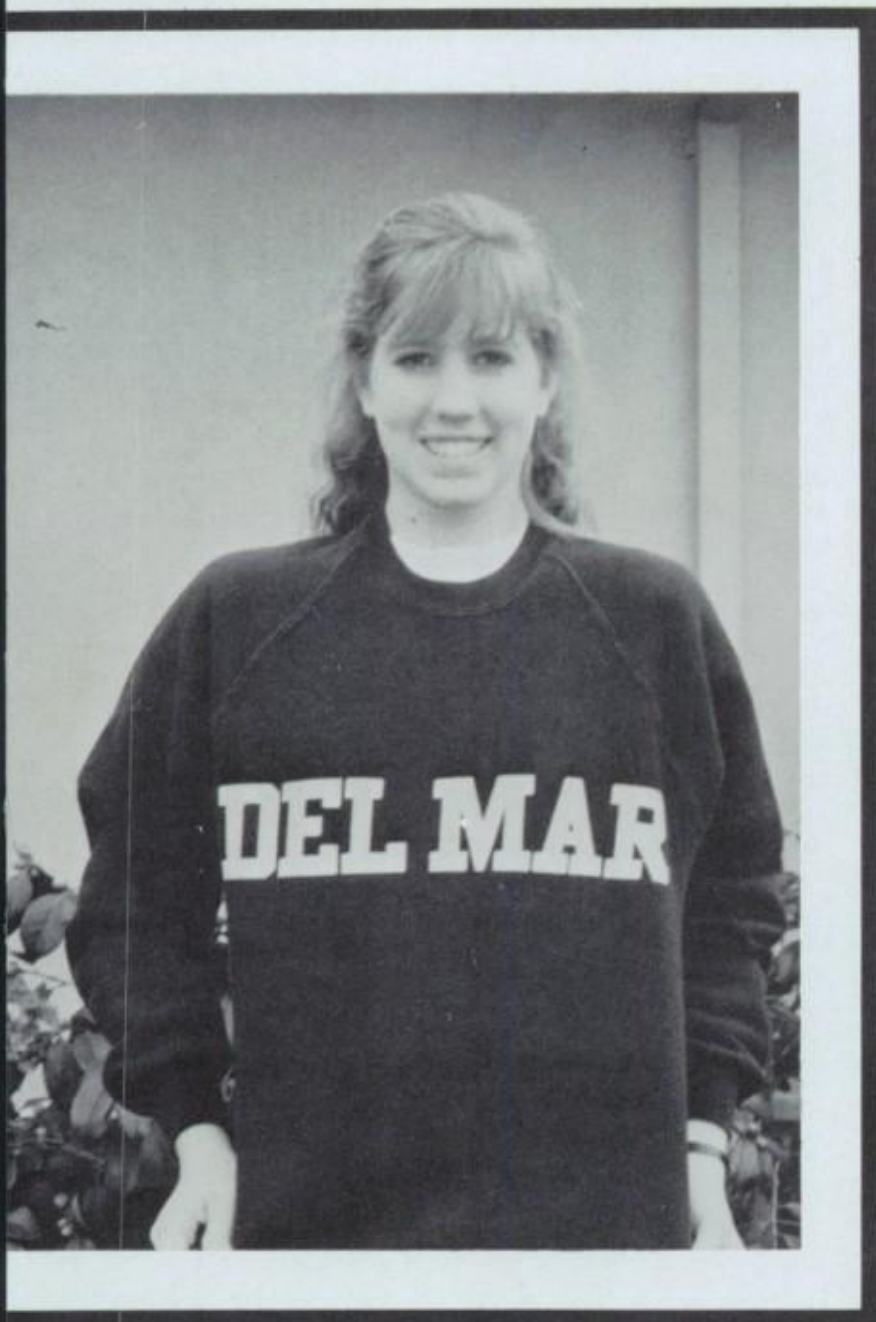

Another of Mr. Hamm's classes marketed senior mugs. The mugs hold 32 ounces and the entire Senior class was named on the outside of the big white mugs. These sold for $5 each. The mugs were a little late in arriving but that didn't hinder the selling of the mugs. They went fast and almost the entire Senior class has a mug to remember their class by. It must be a big success because the mugs have already shown up at a few of the "weekend gatherings."

Doreen In Australia

Becoming an exchange student takes a lot of courage and willingness to be flexible. To go to a new land and change one's life to fit in with the people of that land is and action Senior Doreen Murray did. Living in a country suburb of Australia and going to a school, Monte Sant Angelo Girls College, in the city, Doreen had to overcome many obstacles of transportation, lifestyle, and international prejudices.

Doreen is very interested in animal affairs. Since she was in the 7th grade she showed dogs and worked for many professional handlers. Through her activities, she received many of her first jobs, including a job at a kennel and a job at a veterinarian's technician.

During Doreen's freshman year she traveled to Hong Kong and Singapore which led her to desire to travel. She began to look into ways of travel. Being an exchange student to Australia was the answer. With the intention of travel in mind, Doreen wishes to go to an East Coast school and hopefully work for a company overseas after graduation.

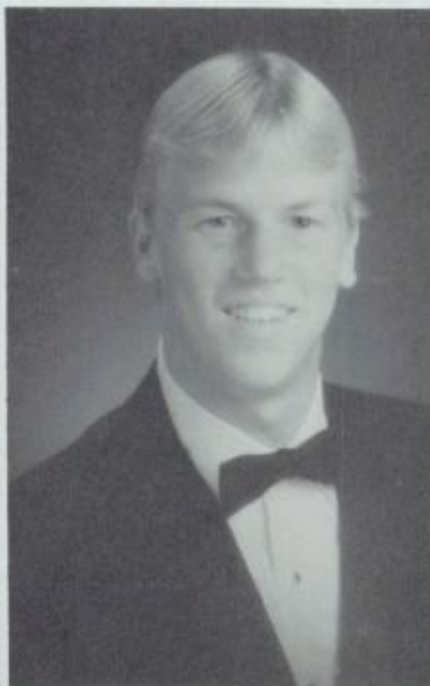

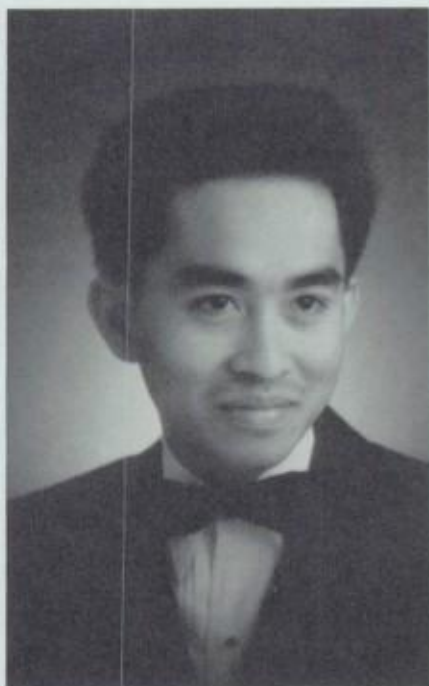

Mike In Germany

Mike Papenfus made his mark as an adventurous person last year by becoming a foreign exchange student. The exchange was private, switching places with Armin Fabian who attended Del Mar last year. While in Germany, Mike attended a high school call Gymnasium am Flutenteich. He attended and gave many lectures at other schools. Also, Mike participated in a week trip to East Germany with a neighboring school that his host mother worked at.

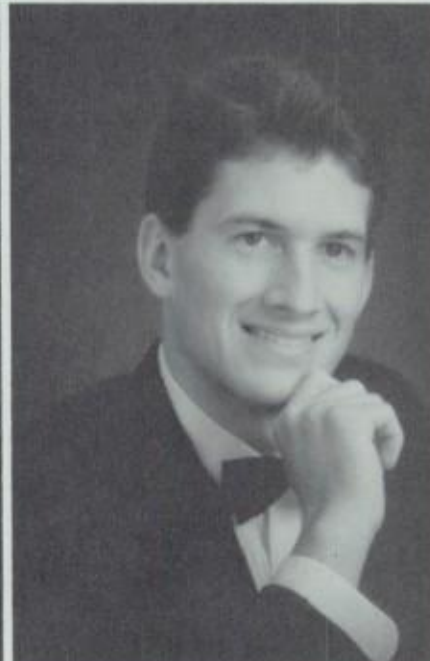

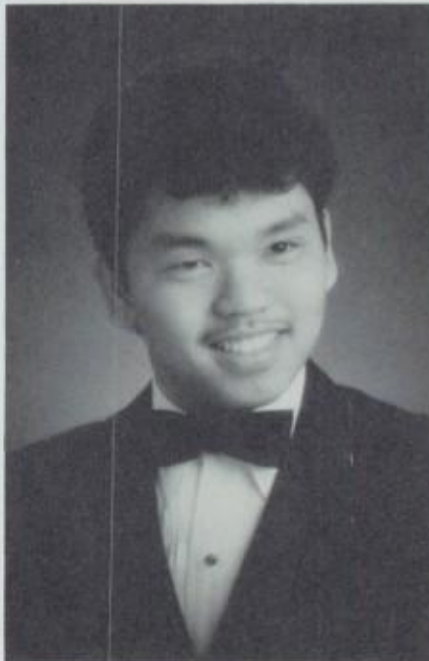

Mike is very sports oriented. He is especially interested in soccer. Not only did he play on a year round team in Germany, but in his sophomore year he traveled to Scotland and Australia to show his American excellence. Mike is acclaimed for his soccer playing along with being awarded a place on the Northern California Lacrosse Team.

Mike's plans for the future are to go to an East Coast University and possibly going back to Germany to begin a career. Because of Mike's exchange, he was required to complete his Junior year here, thus graduating in 1988. The class of 1987 has included Mike in this portion of the yearbook because we still think of Mike as a part of the class of 1987.

Who's Who . . .

Once a year in the spring, a hardback book titled "Who's Who Among American High School Students" is published for the whole country to see. Every year hundreds of students' faces and biographies are seen and read by hundreds of other students, parents, and most importantly, college personnel. Every spring the very important application reviewing people at the colleges flip through the book to find out if any of the applicants to their school are "Who's Who" people.

The counselors at Del Mar were asked to pick up to 15% of the Senior Class to be in the book. The criteria for choosing students are classes, grades, sports, clubs, school gov't, and other activities. This year was the first year that the counselors opted to have Del Mar students in this particular book. There are other books like it, but "Who's Who" is the most respected, longest standing honor of this kind of recognition program.

Congratulations to the 41 of you who were recognized and congrats also to every graduate at Del Mar: in our book, you're all "Who's Who" people!

Boys And Girls State

Boys State and Girls State is a program sponsored by the American Legion. Top Students from all over California are sent to Sacramento for one week in June. The students are nominated by teachers and administrators. Then, out of these students, the American Legion chooses the two top male and female students from each school based on interviews.

This years top male student was Mark Bufton. He was chosen for the privilege of going to Sacramento ... all expenses paid. Mark was selected based on his academic achievements and extra-curricular activities.

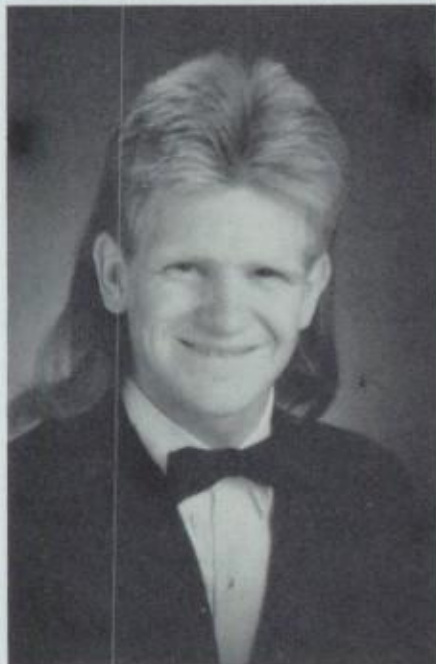

The top female student was Aleta Prinzivalli. Aleta was chosen in the same way Mark was. She was chosen based on her academic record and her activities and leadership.

Neither of them really knew what Boys/Girls State was. But what it turned out to be was several students from all over California learning about government by actually being the government.

As a result, Mark and Aleta made a lot of close friends, some of which they still keep in touch with. Mark returned home with a new sense of patriotism. Both Mark and Aleta recommend that the next "chosen ones" go to Boys/Girls State. When asked how they would describe Boys/Girls State and the time they had, Aleta replied, "It was one of the best times I've had." What did Mark have to say? "It was very SUBURBAN!"

What Does "We Are Del Mar" Mean To You?

Opposite page top right: I thought the 'Wizard of Oz' consisted of a lion, tin-man, scarecrow, and a homely Dorothy, not Tina Eddy, Ellen Lo, and Jen Brustrum.

Opposite page: On sunny days groups of friends can be seen, such as this, dining in the Quad.

Beth Black-We are Del Mar means that we the students, make up the Del. Meaning that the way we act, dress, talk equals what Del Mar will be.

Marc Domino-“We are Del Mar” means we have pride in Del Mar and we make what the school is today.

Tammy Gibbins-“We are Del Mar” means we are proud of our school and we want everyone to know it.

Missie Heron-It means we stand behind our school with pride and are proud to admit it.

Genice Holmes-The expression “We are Del Mar” means that our student body supports our school and its activities.

Valerie Solar-It means rowdy football games, rallie in the gym, friends, lunches in the cafe, etc. It means remembering our school with pride and telling our kids what high school was really like in the “good old days.”

Suzanne Schall-“We are Del Mar” expresses the years of growing to and loving our school. It's a statement that carries different memories for everyone. The parties, dates, dances, wild weekends, and permanent friendships will effect our lives forever on . . .

James Reinhardt-Friends . . . and dragging ourselves out of bed at 7:00 in the morning!

Joahnnna Shinn-A happy fellowship of growth.

Cheryl Fong-All of us working together to reach the same goal . . . graduation!

Sandra Storts-Del Mar means graduation and the beginning of a new life.

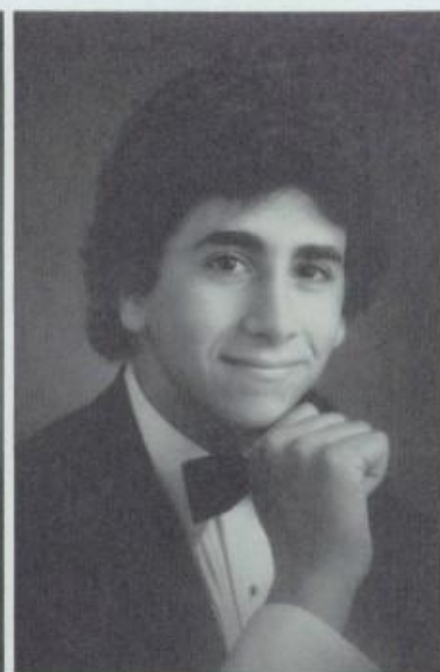

Ken Nowak-It means we have pride in what we stand for: The Dons.

Michelle Sorci-It means we are the best and we know it, that's why we're so proud to say it.

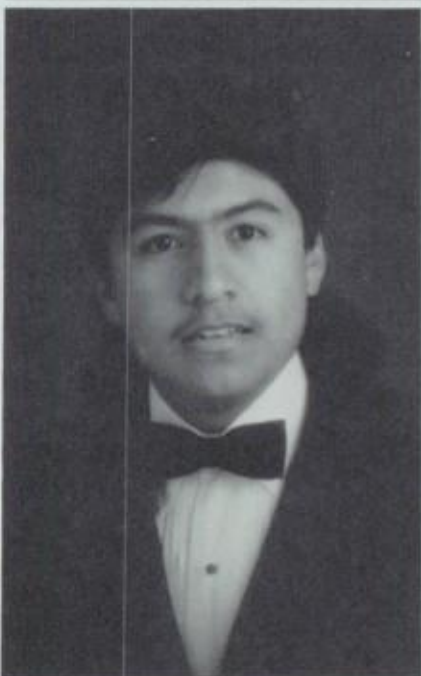

Julie Russo-“We are Del Mar” means unity: Unity of friends and school pride.

Sheri Dunn-“We are Del Mar” means we are not Blackford, Westmont, Leigh, Brahnam, Prospect, or Los Gatos! Instead, we get to be the Best!

Mary Meehan-‘We’ is a pronoun for the student body of the school who ‘are’ happy, sad, proud, humble and enthusiastic to be going to “Del Mar” High School. It means we stand up for and protect the image of the Dons always and forever. The proud clas of 1987!!

THAT WAS THEN...AND THIS IS NOW!

1983, what a year; high school, what a place; Freshman, what an experience! To gaze upon a high school campus for the first time, is a very awe-filled experience for a Freshman. To see that long main hall, which branches off to still longer halls; to find that there really is a room 46 on campus; and to watch those seemingly confident Seniors advance from class to class (and without looking at their schedules); is an ordeal every high school student must endure. Not only is the awkwardness of a new atmosphere cast upon these unsuspecting Freshmen, but they must also deal with the intensity of their classes, on down to the "Dons" latest fashion trends and conversation pieces. You Seniors know what I'm talking about. We've all been through it; to walk into class and find the teacher doesn't give you 20 min. everyday to finish your homework in class; to be introduced to that fearful word: "term-paper"; and to become familiar with phrases such as "You assigned that when?", "When is it due?", and "When's lunch?". After dealing with your teachers and classmates for a good 6 hours of your day, you are then plunged onto the "social-wave" on campus. You find the latest fashion trends don't include a single piece from your wardrobe; you wonder why everyone is always talking about birds or Ravens (Ravers'); and you realize it doesn't take 4 hrs. of your time and 5 lbs. of makeup to look like the Senior girls. Yes, we as Seniors, re-live our Freshman year every day through the new Freshmen class. We see ourselves, 4 yrs. ago; astonished, bewildered, and overwhelmed. As we look now at the many familiar faces and the "too" familiar walls; we realize how "far" we've really come and how much we've matured. We can then look back and say; 1987, what a year; high school, what a memory; Senior, what a title!

THE CLASS OF 88 RETURNS AS JUNIORS BUT WERE THEY READY?

The biggest challenge in high school, aside from graduation, is the dreaded Junior year. Many students, unaware of the many responsibilities and decisions to be made during the Junior year, jump head first into the 11th grade, unprepared for that challenge which lies ahead. First of all, for those students who are truly concerned about their futures, they realize it is necessary to take those courses labeled as "College Prep." Many of these College Prep. courses are difficult. The work load which accompanies any such class is tremendous. A few of these classes at Del Mar which have been labeled as "Necessary but Impossible," are Biology, U.S. History, and Trigonometry. Almost the entire Junior class is enrolled in one, two, or all three of these courses.

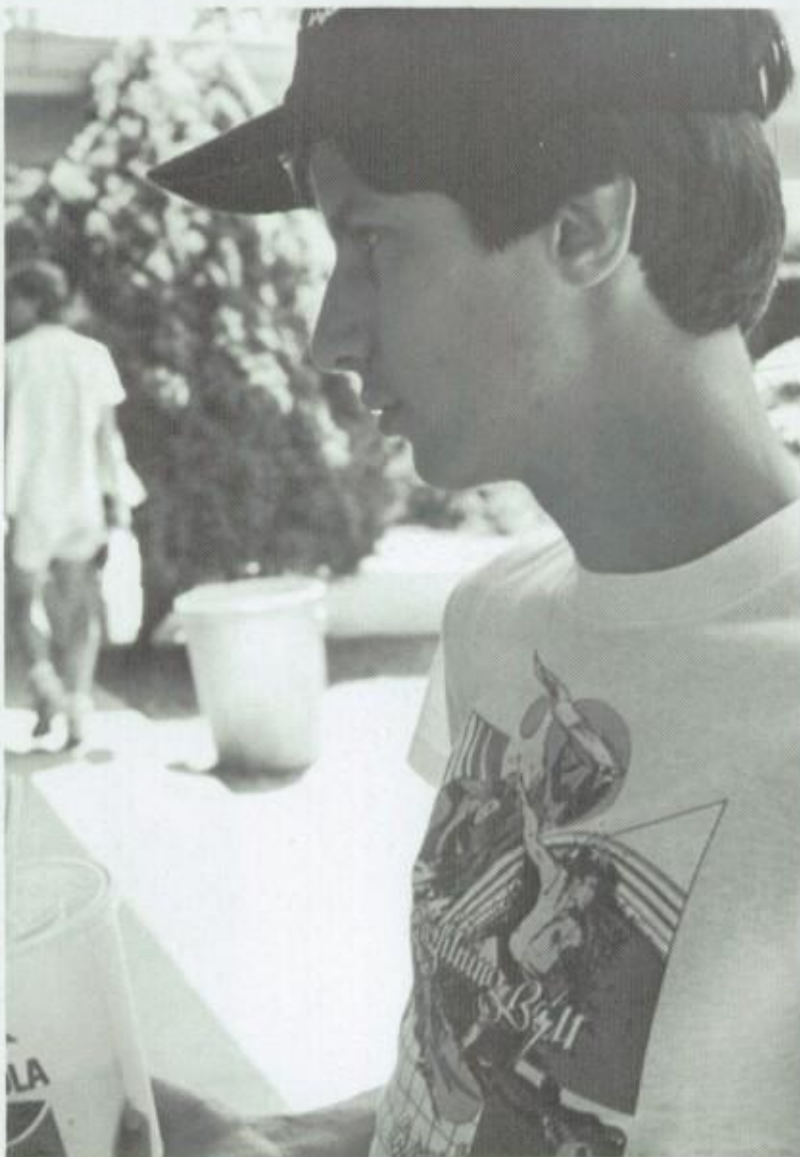

A big responsibility set upon many students in the Junior class is driving. Of the Juniors who have their licenses, many of them have only been driving for about a semester. It is common knowledge that "Experience makes a better driver"; therefore these, not necessarily bad drivers, but inexperienced drivers are faced with the responsibility of driving to and from school, practice, and social events.

Finally, a big decision that many of the Juniors are faced with is who to ask to the Junior Prom. This is the first big social event that the Juniors are responsible for as a class. Not only must they worry about how they are going to pay for it, but they must worry about who they are going to go with. Once this unsuspecting Junior has either asked someone to the prom, or been asked by someone, they still have a lot of decisions to make. First of all they must figure out what time to go, who's driving, where are they going for dinner, how much will dinner cost, WHAT ARE THEY GOING TO WEAR!, why are they even doing this in the first place, where the actual prom is, and how to get there without getting lost, what are they going to do after the prom, what time does she have to be home, and finally does she really have to kiss him good-night?

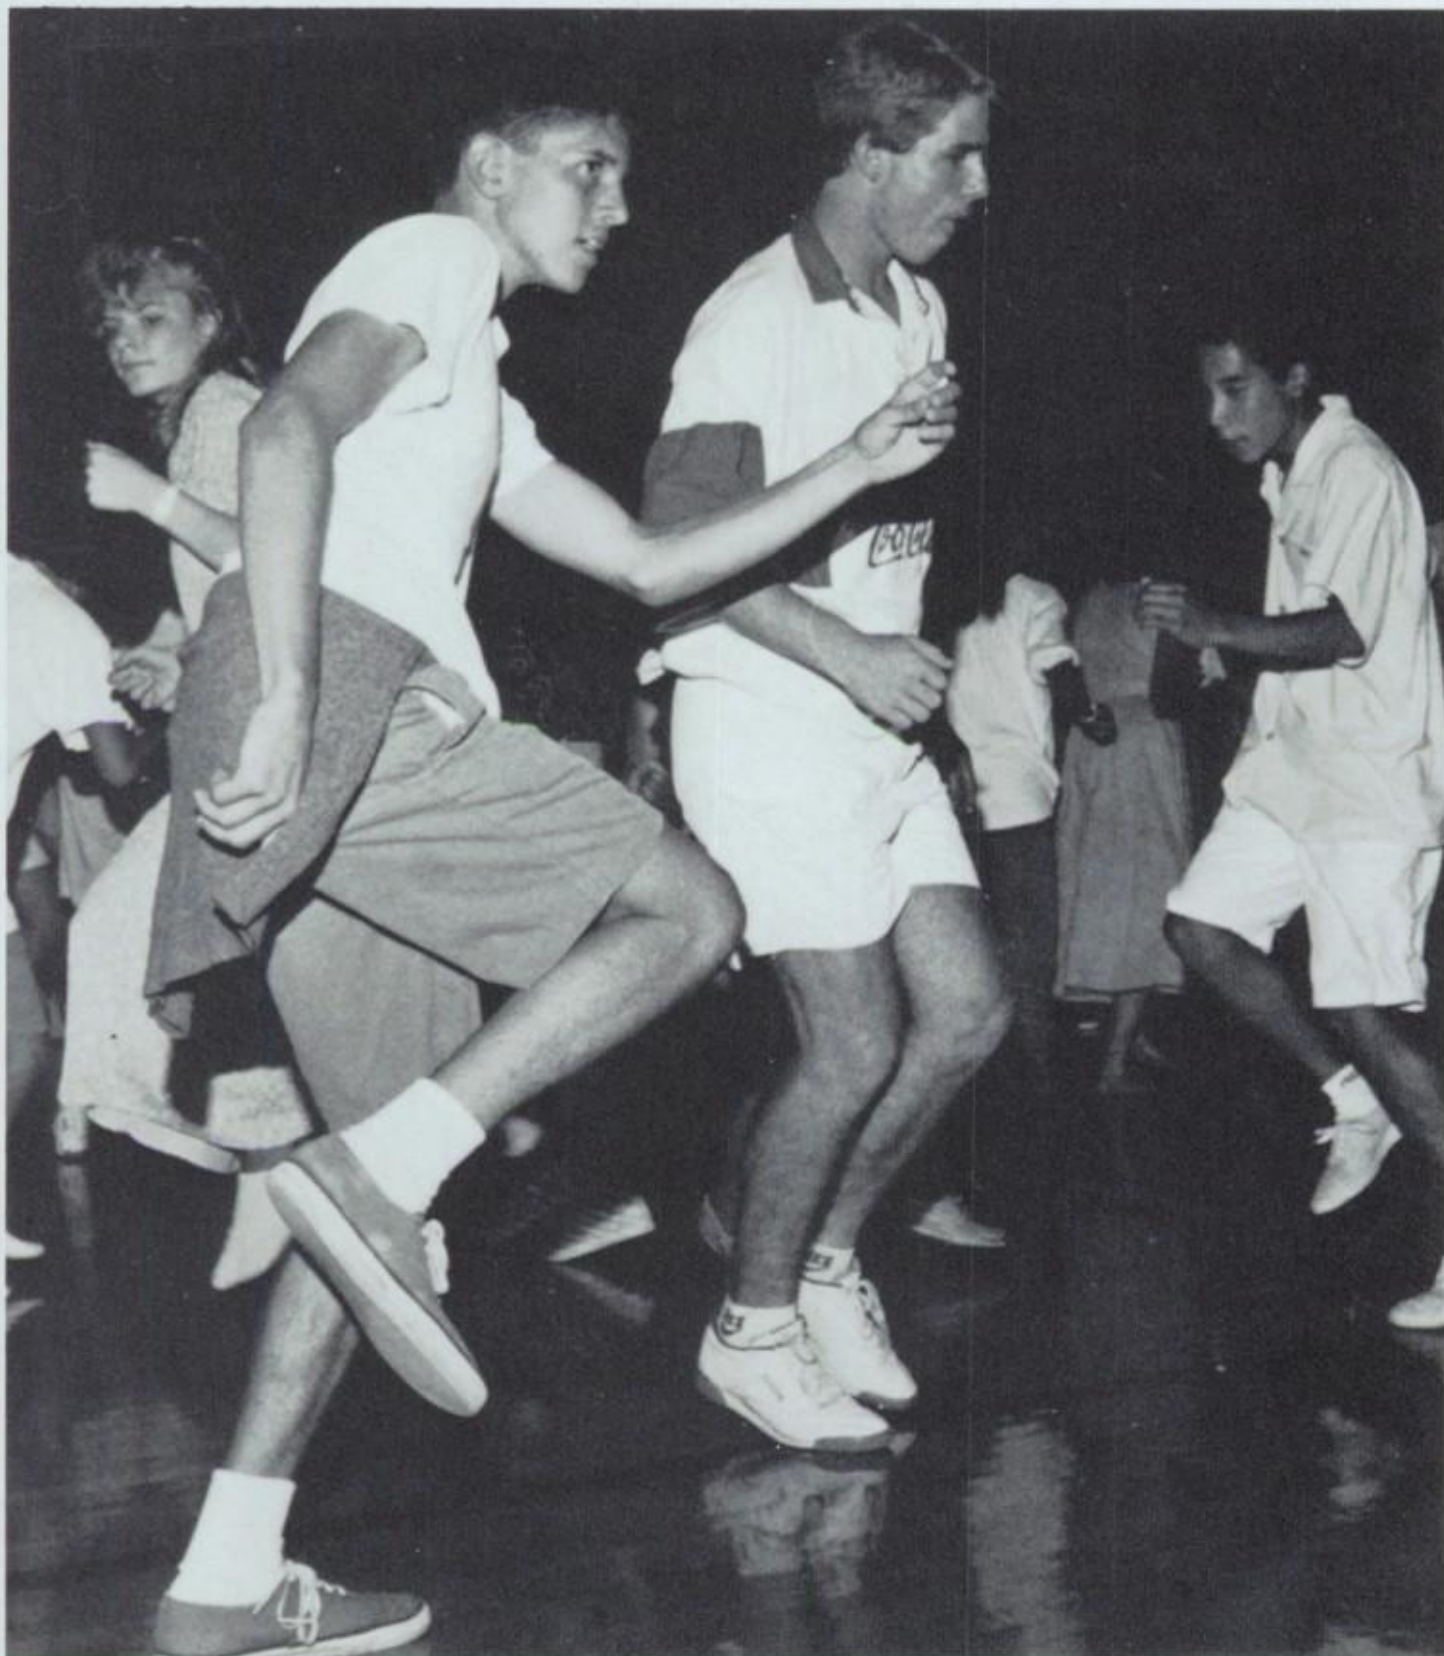

Therefore, as someone who has experienced these and many other Junior delemmas, I dutifully salute those Juniors who go on to become Seniors.

SOPHOMORES SHINE IN '87

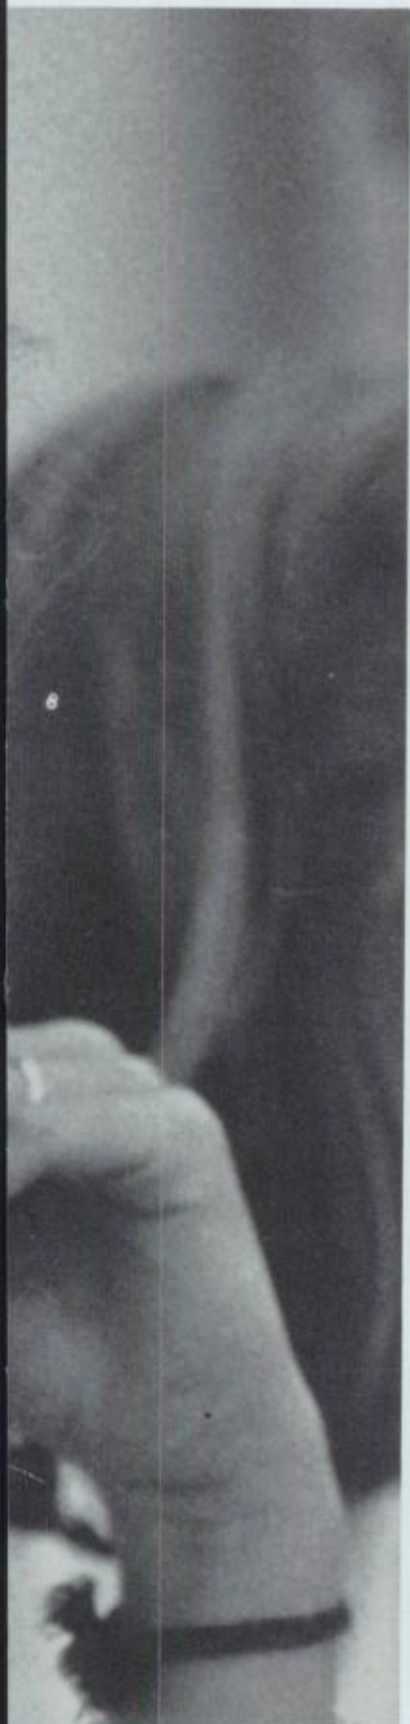

With a feeling of relief that they are no longer freshmen, the class of 1989 returns to Del Mar High once again. They have hopes and aspirations of the events to come. They are a step closer to being upper-classman, but shouldn't get excited yet. They have one more year to go.

A common goal among this group of students is to have a driver's license, a car, and a girlfriend/boyfriend by the summer of their sophomore year. Soon enough, they will find out that this goal is not so easily achieved.

To all the sophomores of the Del, enjoy your second year of high school. It won't last forever. Scholastically, you still have it pretty easy. Just you wait until your Junior year!!

Middle: Missie Bartholow thinks to herself, "Why am I here?!"

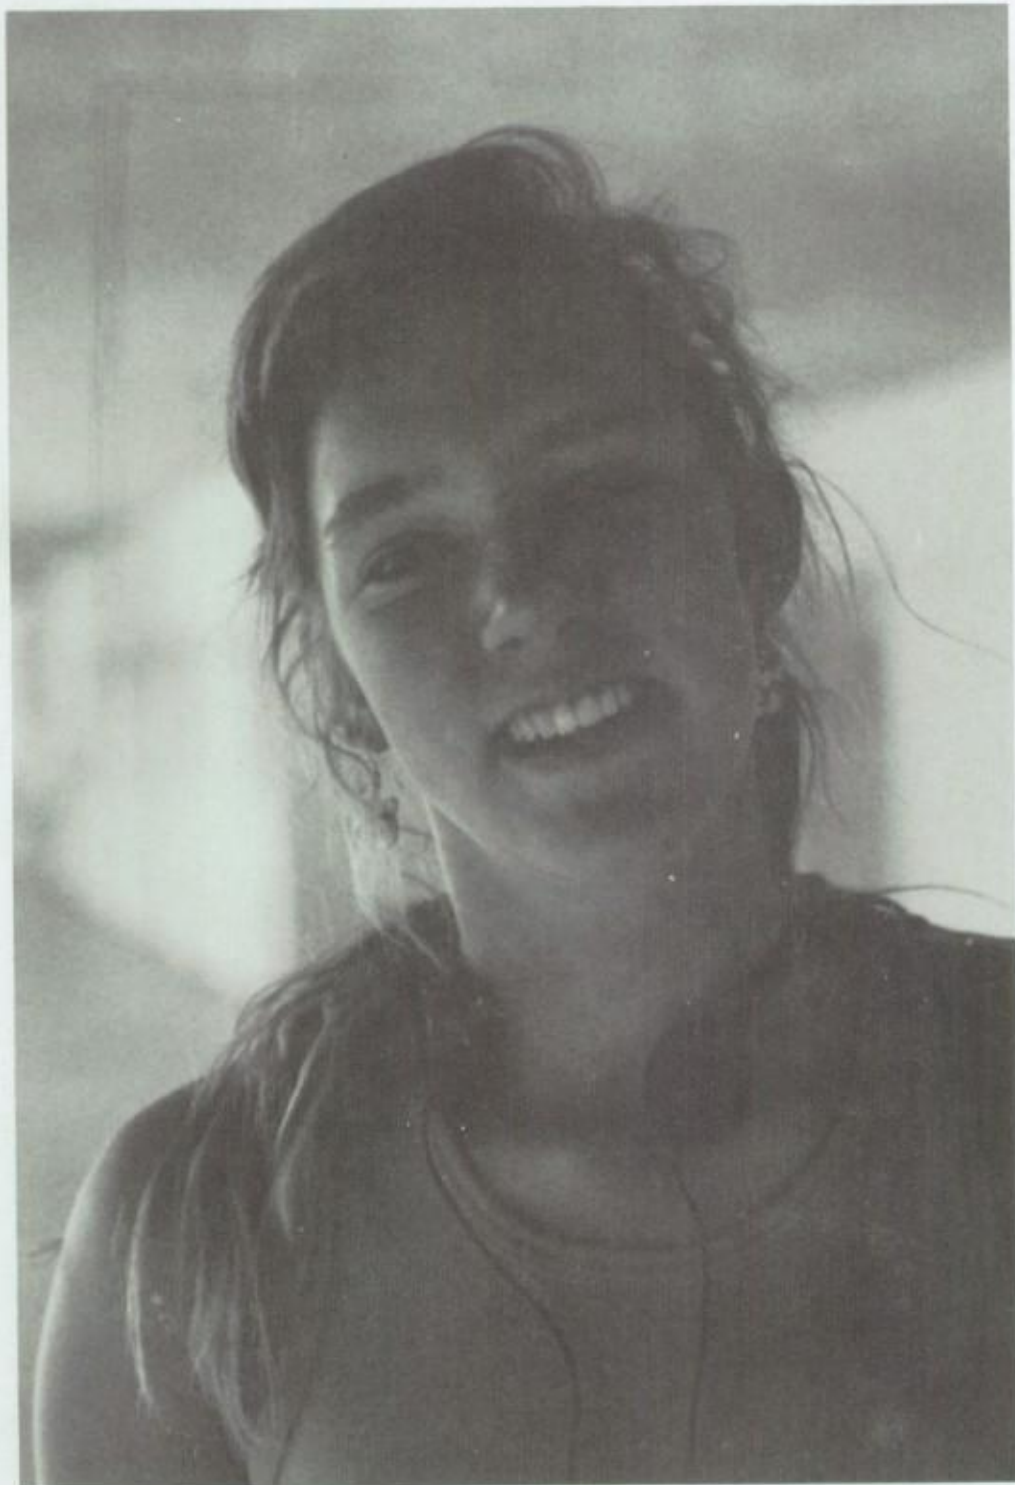

Far left: Shane Chesson asks Mike Gulizia, "Awww, does Mikey have a boo boo?"

This page: Top; Since they aren't freshmen anymore, the sophomores come out and cheer for the class of '89'.

Above right: Kristen Larson attempts to sleep sitting up, so as not to alarm the teacher. Nice try Kristen!

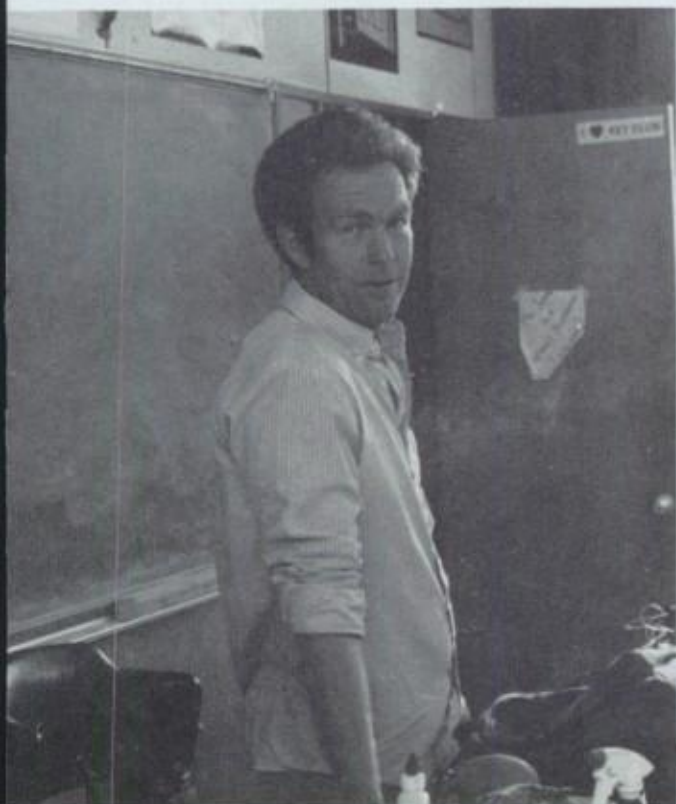

Above: It is amazing how Joy Dear is still able to flash an energetic smile after her work-out.

Left: By the look on his face and the mess on his desk; one can tell that Mr. Jones has had a rough day teaching his sophomore dominated Physics classes.

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS WE'RE ALL IN IT TOGETHER

Both the Sophomore and Junior class suffer from what is commonly known as the "Middle Syndrome". The Sophomores are no longer Freshmen to be ridiculed, and the Juniors are not yet Seniors to do the ridiculing. Both of these classes trudge along, dutifully completing each day as if their lives depended upon their success. "Why doesn't some one stand up for their rights to be Sophomores and Juniors?", you ask. Well it just wouldn't do any good because the Freshmen would cry and the Seniors would protest. Therefore, as before the Freshmen will continue to be cute and naive, and the Seniors will continue to be loud and domineering. The yearbook staff, however, recognizes the Sophomore and Junior classes. We have dedicated these two pages to all of your hard work and "trudging". Just remember, what good is a sandwich without the good stuff in the middle.

It's the first day of school for the twins, Susie and Jimmy. Not the first day of just any school, the first day of school at Del Mar High School. Susie and Jimmy are freshmen this year. Their transition from an eighth grade lifestyle to a high school lifestyle hasn't taken affect yet. Jimmy in his Town and Country shirt, PCH pants and vans. Susie in her nicest back-to-school dress and gobs of war paint on her face. And they wonder how upperclassmen can always spot a freshman.

They carry their schedules hidden in a place that is convenient and easily accessible to take a quick peek at where they are supposed to go next. Not yet having figured out the number system of our school, the students wander around aimlessly looking for their rooms. During this time they are getting yelled at from down every hall . . . "FRESHMEN!"

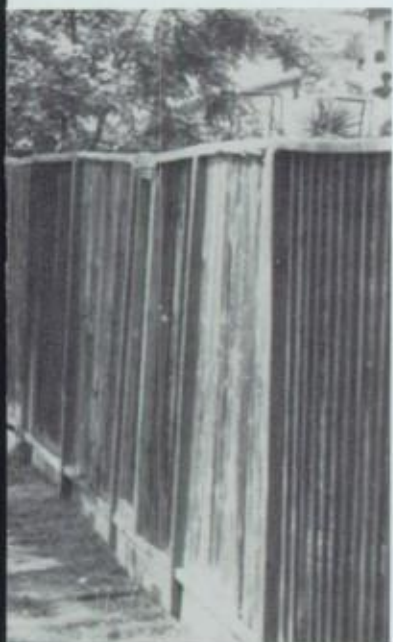

It is now lunch time and Susie and Jimmy realize that they can go off campus for lunch. This is new and different from junior high. They decide to go to Hava Snak across the street because it looks to them like everybody goes there. After about 10 minutes, Susie and Jimmy decide they can't even get across Del Mar Avenue safely. So, they decide to just stay on campus and eat the lunches their mommy made for them.

It's time for them to go home now. Susie and Jimmy make a trip to their lockers which are spotless and free of excess papers. They will soon learn that it's hopeless to keep it that way.

As they walk home, Jimmy asks Susie, "Well, how did you like high school?"

Susie answers, "I like it a lot! How 'bout you?"

"I love it, too. I learned a lot today!" Jimmy replies. The rest of the way home they are silent. Both thinking, "Gosh, I have to spend four more years of my life here?!!" sigh

Opposite page: Heather shoots the photographer a sexy glance.

Center: Sorry, Chris Turner, no matter how hard you try to hide behind the lockers, your legs will always give you away!

R. LAWSON

For those of you who don't know her, Mrs. Rita Lawson is our principal, a mother, wife, and a very caring and considerate person. She has been at the 'Del' for 5 years. Before she came to Del Mar, she was a counselor at Campbell High and vice-principal at Westmont Hight.

Mrs. Lawson is married to Gordon. She is a mother of three; Philip, 26, Renee, 10, and little Gordon, 8. She has a "wonderful family". She said that her family unity has helped her here at Del Mar.

Mrs. Lawson has a lot of compassion for the students here at the 'Del'. She is "deeply concerned" about their well-being. She feels she can relate to the pressures that the students are trying to deal with.

Mrs. Lawson has a very positive outlook on life. She has pride in the students, faculty, and school. She would like all of us to share in this school pride. Her theory; "Anybody can do what they want if they work hard enough."

I feel part of Del Mar whenever I meet another "Del-martian". I feel part of Del Mar in my classes, where I deal with over half of every graduating class, and as advisor to the school paper where the stories of student life are reported. I feel even more a part when I read papers assigned in my English classes, and share in the thoughts and dreams of my students.

When I came here in 1980, after over 20 years at Campbell, staff, parents, and students really made me feel part of Del Mar- and they still do!

Karen Copper is one of the many new teachers at Del Mar this year. You might have seen her as a student teacher in biology last year. Del Mar is her first "real" teaching job since graduating from UCLA. She teaches chemistry and earth science. Miss Copper enjoys teaching here, and she hopes to come back and teach next year. She is enthusiastic about everything she does, and this shows through in her teaching.

Miss Copper also likes to run to stay in shape. Last year, she helped coach the Del Mar track team. She ran for UCLA as well.

If you didn't already know, Miss Copper is engaged to be married. Miss Copper will become Mrs. Trobough in the summer of 1987. We wish her the best of luck in the future!

Ms. Dailey is an active part of the 'Dels' faculty. She has been here for two and a half years. She began with her student teaching here with Mrs. Guy and Mrs. Orozco-Sakai. She is currently teaching foreign language in room 40. Ms. Dailey is the Spirit Commission advisor. She informed us that this keeps her very busy. She is also currently working with Mr. Rogers on a project called the Issues Forum. This activity would allow students to come in during lunch and debate international issues.

On her free time, Ms. Dailey is involved with a group called Beyond War.

This group is an educational effort to resolve conflicts without violence. Ms. Dailey said she is "glad to be a part of Del Mar". She feels "welcome" here. She also feels "we all are a team and no one can make it without the others".

You would think that 11 years of dedication at the same school would daunt someone's spirit. Not Mr. Jones! He is still going strong, being the Key Club advisor, Lunch-time sports Director, and the Faculty-Senior Softball Game Director. He also founded

S.A.D.D. at the 'Del' 4 years ago.

Mr. Jones, or better known by his students as Dr. J. and Einstein, enjoys teaching Physics. He says that he tries to make his classes as enjoyable and personal as possible. He thinks that the students should feel that they are part of a school community, not just a student who attends the 'Del'

He's very proud to be a part of Del Mar, and he hopes that the Del Mar community will never close its doors to anyone.

I. MOORE

We will be missing a very special teacher after this year. Irving Moore is retiring. He taught at Camden High for 25 years and he has been here at Del Mar for seven years. He teaches various math courses. This year, he has three geometry classes. Mr. Moore loves to teach and is extraordinary at it. He jokes with his students as well as getting them to understand the difficult concepts of math.

After Mr. Moore retires, he plans to pursue his hobby. He is an avid bird watcher. He practices this whenever he has a chance. Some may describe him as an "artist". Mr. Moore carves birds out of wood. He hopes to open a small gallery and sell his beautiful pieces of art. He may also do some traveling as he loves to travel and see various parts of the world.

When asked if he had a particular philosophy he has lived by, he answered:

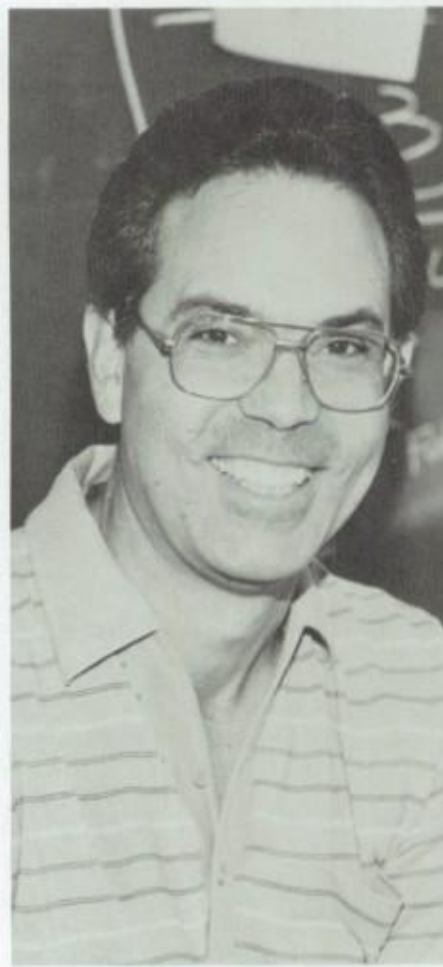

"Keep a good attitude about life. Be humorous and don't take things too seriously. Don't take problems home with you and don't dwell on the past. Live your life simply-because you only live once."

On November 1, 1962, Del Mar High School got its first real glimpse of this fun-loving teacher, Jim Hamm.

Just a little background information on this man Mr. Hamm. He was born in Oklahoma and raised in Southern California. He served his time in the military. He then went to three different colleges to get his teaching credentials. During his days at San Jose State he drove Del Mar's little yellow school bus; then he got a job here to teach. He is married and has two children who are off at college.

Mr. Hamm has been here for 24 years now and has taught many different subjects. For the past few years he has taught law, American government, and now economics. The way he runs his classes is well liked by the students. Something always seems to be happening: going to Court, guest speakers, the drug game and the economics class selling sweatshirts, and senior class mugs.

J. HAMM

His fun-loving attitude, jokes, and stories contribute to a relaxed classroom environment and a better understanding of the subject matter.

Besides being a teacher Mr. Hamm is also the girls' cross-country and girls' track coach here at school. He also is the advisor of the Mock Trial team. As you can see, he is very active at Del Mar and is a great example of how our enthusiasm for Del Mar stands above all.

Mr. Dominguez has been teaching here at Del Mar for 23 years. In those years he has shown his hard work and dedication in academics and coaching. He has the ability to unite teams in trouble and often turn them into WVAL champions. He is a man who encourages students to do their best. He has a great knowledge of life and is always there as a friend.

Mr. Dominguez was the one who arranged the Don Walford Benefit here at Del Mar. To do something like that takes a very special and caring person. Mr. Dominguez stated, "When one person cares, it's contagious, just like courtesy is." His caring brought hundreds of students, faculty and staff members, and parents together to help the Walford family. From the faculty, staff, and students, we want to send our deepest gratitude to you, Mr. Dominguez, for bringing people together and caring about someone in need.

Mr. Jones, Key Club advisor, points the way to success.

"What is Key Club?" is a question you might have. "They make keys," is a conclusion you might make. Actually this is quite true. Key Club is a community service organization sponsored by the Kiwanis. The Kiwanis is a businessmen's club, just like the Lion's club. Key Club's responsibility is to connect the school and the community together.

The Del Mar Key Club has been in existence ever since 1959. With President Rhett Rowan, Vice President Kathy Sawyer, Secretary Lauryl Irwin, Treasurer Sue Schall, Senior Rep Karina Miller, Junior Rep Sonia Torigoe, Sophomore Rep Kristen Larson, and Freshman Rep Jeff Brustrom working together, it is known as one of the most fun, active, and entertaining clubs at Del Mar. The club had plans on visiting a convalescent home and holding the annual Christmas Marathon in December. They were also planning a bike safety course for elementary children.

Peer Counseling is an organization that helps students with their problems. Students must pass a semester course to become a certified Peer Counselor. When they are certified, they can be called out of class to help a troubled student. Many friendships have developed between peer counselor and peer counselee. Peer Counseling has helped many students and may have even saved a few lives. Remember, everyone needs someone to lean on.

"Tyro," a synonym to "novice," is the name of a magazine of literary and graphic works written, illustrated, and put together by the students at Del Mar. Many of the published works come from class assignments. Ms. Udd, the advisor, and the staff select the writings and art works submitted by the students to put in the magazine. Poems, essays, and other creative writings compose the literary part of the magazine. Photographs and different kinds of graphic art projects are created through the hands of the students in the photography and art classes. This 20-year-old Del Mar tradition has some traditions of its own, too. The cover would be designed by a senior. A troll and an inkwell would appear in the publication. Even though their name is "Tyro," the staff's dedication to their job does not seem any less serious than a professional.

ACADEMIC DECATHLON. Sounds like the twelve impossible tasks Heracles performed, doesn't it? It is a competition consisting of seven tests of academic strength and three demonstrations. In order to achieve high marks in the competition, the team has to have a lot of "brain power" and coaching. Mr. Flammer, Mr. Cullen, and Mr. Rogers are the coaches. Additional help is provided by Mr. Jones and Ms. Copper. The whizzes are Jennifer Brustrom, Mark Bufton, Julie Chisholm, Tinhvan Diep, Tina Eddy, Luke LaJoie, Mary Meehan, Dale Melton, Han Thanh, Van Nguyen, Danny Olsen, and James Reinhardt. They were tested on economics, fine arts, language and literature, mathematics, science, social science, and a super quiz about the Constitution of the United States. The rest of the competition includes an interview, an essay, and a speech. After two months of hard work, the Del Mar team raced against other schools on November 15, 1986, at Mission College; the result was satisfactory.

The Math Club is into its second year at the 'Del'. Mr. Simpson is the director of this club. The club itself is composed of students who participate in different math contests and math "leagues" on campus.

Finance Commission is an educational and fun club to be in. A person not only has a good time working at the dances and games, but a free yearbook is given to all the members of the commission at the end of the year. The most strenuous activity required of the members is the ticket sales. All of the members must sell tickets to the various events on campus. This definitely is the most profitable club on campus.

Student Bank is a very important class at Del Mar. The students have to manage the school's books, as well as take deposits and write checks. Even though the students have to take this class seriously, it can be fun as well as interesting. A lot of valuable experience has been acquired through this class.

S. A. D. D.

S.A.D.D. is a take off from an organization called M.A.D.D. (mothers against drunk drivers). S.A.D.D. (students against driving drunk) is determined to make students aware of other alternatives than driving while intoxicated. The club was formed in 1984. Again this year S.A.D.D. will design a message to discourage drinking and driving in the display case in the main hall.

The drama society, although the advisor, Mr. Libratore is new, is one of the 'Del's' older clubs. It has been around, for many years, producing plays such as Oklahoma!, Up the Down Staircase, and Dames at Sea, and helping students get a start in an acting career. This year's first play, 'Dames at Sea', is a take off on movie musicals of the 1930's. This play will be combining old talent as well as bringing forth new talent. The yearbook staff would like to wish the company luck on future productions.

Mr. Libratore is not inexperienced in the field of drama. He came here from San Jose State. He's also worked as a director for Palo Alto. In addition, he's established a children's theatre for kids ages 8 through 18.

The Chess Club is a revised member of the Del Mar family. It was started in October by Warren Rudder. The members play chess on their own and meet every Friday. They even established a system to determine the top seven players on Varsity and the rest on Junior Varsity. The club started to compete with other schools chess players in December. In January, they went to Leigh High School where a chess master played with more than a hundred people at the same time. It is a very active organization and we hope it will remain active in the years to come.

THE GROUPS THAT BRING DEL MAR THE WORLD

The Spanish Club is a new division of the old International Club this year. The advisor is Mrs. Guy. In the past, the old International Club has held an International Week, featuring the cultures of many different countries.

This year the Spanish Club will be able to focus solely on the culture of the Spanish people, as there are a French, Italian, and German Clubs on campus too.

First row: Kristi Nowak, Paula Elizondo, Julie Peddy, Laurie Bayer, Jane Smith. Second row: Jerry Seminar, Jennifer Dinshaw, Missie Heron, Sonia Torigoe, Derek Tarvin. Third row: Anna Mulder, Claire Stewart, Kathy Sawyer, Sheri Dunn, Adrienne Valdez-Lanam, April Escobar. Bottom row: Sarah Goodbody, Christina Iida, Mrs. Guy, Amy Katsuyshi, Hilary Estes.

The French Club is one of the newer clubs at the 'Del', composed of any students who want to learn about the culture of France. It is basically a social club, led by Mrs. Baheri. In addition to educating, the members are hoping to raise enough money to go to France this summer. If the trip is successful, the French Club promises to become more active and educational in future years.

Irmgard Hunter is a brand-new advisor on campus this year for the German Club. This club has flourished under her guidance. This club offers social enrichment, worldly insight, and introduction to German Culture. They have under-gone various fund-raisers throughout this year, which include selling candy and putting on an Oktober Fest.

C.S.F. and Honor Society, probably the two most academically-gearred clubs on campus, allow worthy students the opportunity to be recognized for their hard-earned efforts.

Eligibility for C.S.F., the abbreviation for the California Scholarship Federation, is based solely on grades. The basic requirement is an A- grade average, determined by a point system similar to that of overall GPA.

On the other hand, Honor Society eligibility is determined by both grades and involvement in school activities. A B grade average is required, as well as participation in two extracurricular activities.

If the prospect of just being recognized as members of either of these obviously exciting organizations isn't enough to provoke high grades among you, believe it or not, there's more.

Officers: Travis Johnson, Sonia Torigoe.

Not only is indication of membership like gold on records referred to by colleges and employers, but four semesters of C.S.F. membership gains worthy students entrance into Lifetime C.S.F., an organization even more prestigious than C.S.F. itself.

In addition to this, a day is set aside annually to allow these closet-cases to vent upon the outside world their stress and frustration, which has been built up over a whole year of endless studying and homework. Each spring the C.S.F. and Honor Society get together for a day and wreak havoc upon the city of San Francisco. They are shipped up by bus and set free to run rampant and do as they wish for the entire day.

Keep an eye on these students-their tradition of academic excellence will soon be apparent as they emerge as prominent citizens of our future society.

The Spring '87 C.S.F. and Honor Society remains to be one of the largest groups at Del Mar. Having devoted their immeasurable effort to school work for a whole year and sacrificing their precious lunch periods working at the snack bar, these whizzes were rewarded something they had anticipated for a long time- a free day in fabulous San Francisco! The annual trip took place in May. Everyone thought that the trip was worth all the work and pressure.

Charles Davidson, under the direction of Mr. Shaw, made up this year's Speech and Debate Team. Charles participated in Student Congresses where he helped debate bills; this took place at Pinewood School in Fremont. He also competed in various service club contests for such clubs as the Rotary Club and the Lion's Club. These clubs put on speech contests for high school students. The final speech and debate activity will be working with the graduation speakers for the graduation of the CLASS of 1987!

Mock Trial is a six-year old county-wide high school competition that deals with a legal case in court. This year's case was a situation in the 1850's during the Gold Rush. The prosecuting and defense attorneys, played by the participants from competing schools, argued and presented their sides of the case in front of a real judge and two professional attorneys. With all the hard work and the tremendous effort put into this competition, the Del Mar team, consisting of 14 excellent players, managed to pull through with satisfying results. Mark Bufton, a strong member of the team, was chosen for the All-County team.

What is Journalism? This is a popular question. Journalism is the class which produces the Del Mar Dawning. What is the Dawning?, you ask. The Dawning is the newspaper which you receive twice a month. It is filled with such articles as: athlete of the week, car of the week, movie reviews, and other articles concerning current events and major issues. The Journalism students work hard and long to bring all of this to you. They work with Mr. Bass to put together the ever successful Dawning. Without the Journalism class and Mr. Bass, there would be no Dawning.

If I should describe the yearbook staff with a word, "deranged" would be perfect. They always seem to be in a hurry, running around, talking breathlessly. Here is a list of things that they utter the most:

"Oh, I've gotta conduct an interview with so and so . . .,"

"Shhhhooot!!! I have to write my copy . . .,"

"Oh gosh! The layout is due tomorrow . . .,"

"What?! The deadline is TOMORROW!?!?" etc.

I should give a little advice for a non-staff member: If you find out that your friend has forgotten to do his page and the deadline is the very next day, do NOT try to contact him. He would be very edgy and irritable. Besides, I cannot imagine what he would look like. Disheveled hair, black circles around the eyes, possibly headaches or symptoms of a cold, . . . etc., are the effects of a rushed deadline.

But all these are part of yearbook. The creativity, perseverance, and responsibility of the staff make a yearbook successful. What keeps them going is the pleasure and gratification accompanied with compliments on the finished product is immeasurable.

The staff would like to thank Debbie Parkes and Cheryl Fong, our editor and assistant editor, Eric Larsen, the sports editor, Sheri Dunn, the senior section editor, Stephanie Hornback, the faculty section editor, Kathy Sawyer, the activities editor, and Mr. Spitzer, our advisor, for a wonderful time working together.

This year's play, Dames At Sea, was directed by Mr. William Liberatore. It was a comedy based on the old Ruby Keller movies.

The play is about a wide-eyed girl named Ruby who comes from Utah to Broadway in the hope of becoming a star. She falls in love with a sailor, named Dick, who is a potential song writer. The Broadway Theatre gets closed down and the production is moved to the deck of a ship, where it becomes a smash hit.

The play ends with a spectacular finale on the deck of the ship with all of the cast singing and dancing. It was a great finish to a great play.

Mr. Liberatore and the cast did a wonderful job on Dames At Sea!

Concert Choir:

Having been extinct for many years, the Del Mar choir was born again. Under the direction of Mr. Liberator, the 50-member choir performed successfully in the winter concert, the Broadway concert, and the spring concert. It has also participated in many music festivals such as the Campbell Union High School District Music Festival and the CMEA Choral Festival. The audiences were always surprised by the excellent performance of this one-year-old choral group.

The Band:

The Del Mar Band currently has 20 members. During the early months of the school year, the band practiced and prepared for the marching tournaments. Practicing two to three hours after school every week, the band attained local recognition in many band tournaments. Nick Blanchard, the drum major, led the band at the Cupertino Parade, the Saratoga Parade, and the Los Gatos Band Jamboree. The band planned to join the Madrigals, taking part in the All American Festival in Southern California. Anna Mulder, a trumpeter, was selected for the County Honor Band.

The Madrigals:

The Madrigals is an exclusive group of singers from the concert choir. Every morning and some afternoons, this choral group practiced its music diligently. The highlight this year for the 20 members was the planning of the Southern California trip in May. Along with the band, they planned to participate in the All American Festival in Los Angeles from May 1 through May 4. Every member feels that it is a memorable experience being in the Madrigals.

HOMECOMING VICTORIOUS ONCE AGAIN

On a warm Saturday morning in November, the Del Mar Dons Varsity Football team played their Homecoming game against their cross-town rivals, the Blackford Braves. The Dons came out with a lot of school spirit and determination. They played a tough game and were victorious with a score of: Dons-27, Braves-12. The team was led by Mike Elizondo's three touchdowns. He plowed his way through Blackford's defense, leaving them in the dust. The Dons defense was led by Junior, first team all-league safety, Toby Wilson, and by Senior, first team all-CCS Shawn Eastman. Toby had two interceptions, one of which he ran back for a touchdown. This gave him a record of 9 interceptions this year; a new school record. Shawn hit hard and blocked well to enable the defense to stop Blackford's running game. The team fought hard and made their school proud to say "We are Del Mar"!

Top: This was the outstanding defense which gave up only 12 points to Blackford during the game.

AND BEFORE THE GAME...

What does one do after Homecoming game? Well, generally after the game there is a dance; and usually the dance isn't merely a dance, but a celebration. Well this year, we broke this tradition at the 'Del'. Not only were we Seniors (who have become so used to tradition) confused, but the dance seemed to lack its special "energy" and "magic". Instead of celebrating a victory or forgetting a defeat, the general atmosphere of the crowd was anticipation. Even though we were now playing Blackford for our homecoming game, and a win was almost assured, there was still a question of doubt in the minds of many during the dance.

Another reason the dance wasn't as "energetic" as usual, was the time it was over; 11:00 pm. That may not seem late to most people, but then most people don't have to get up early the next morning to cheer their team on to a victory. The Homecoming game was scheduled for 10:00, the morning after the dance. All in all, Del Mar let its spirit shine though. Even though the turn-out at the dance was small, the turn-out for the game was overwhelming. Of course we all know it was the crowd which led their team into the 27-14 win over Blackford!

VARSITY FOOTBALL AIMS HIGH

Del Mar's varsity football team had a frustrating season, filled with injuries and bad-breaks. When practice began last spring, the team had aspirations of a league championship and a CCS title. Del Mar had many exceptional players like Mike Elizando, Steve Anderson, Kirk Bibb, and Ken Nowak, plus CCS first-team linebacker Shawn Eastman and CCS receiver Toby Wilson. However, as the regular season came around, "We never had all our starters playing in one game . . . we always had 3-5 players out due to injuries," explains head coach Ray Andree. The Dons ended the year with a 4-5 record, 3-3 in league. "Our record doesn't even reflect the fine talent of the team," points out senior Ken Wingerden. Almost every game was decided by seven points or less, making for a frustrating year. In reflecting on the season, senior Larry "Mondello" Meyer concludes, "All our hard work and off-season dedication and training seems to have gone to waste because of injuries." Senior Ken Nowak looks back on a more positive note, "At least we won Homecoming."

FROSH/SOPH FOOTBALL REBUILDS

This year's Frosh/Soph football team began its season under the direction of a new head coach, Clay Henry. Coach Henry had his work cut out for him with a team consisting of only a few returning players off last year's squad and even fewer returning starters. In a frustrating up and down season, the Frosh/Soph ended with a dismal record of 2-7. When asked to reflect on the season, many of the players looked back in frustration. "Heartbreaking," describes sophomore Rick Leal. However, the season did have some bright points. Frank Perkins points out, "despite our record, Del Mar did establish itself as one of the hardest-hitting teams in the league." Sophomore Chris Dorcich explained, "the season wasn't all that bad considering the general youth and inexperience of the team." With several freshmen returning next year, Del Mar's F/S football team should be promising.

At the beginning of the school year, if you happened to tread across the field near by the tennis courts, you would see a group of energetic young women practicing every afternoon. These athletes are the Del Mar field hockey team. They are "a very enthusiastic and dedicated group," commented Coach Moore. With three seniors returning, the varsity team had some success: three wins and two ties. All the players agree that this is a building year. There will be thirteen seniors returning to the team; everyone is anticipating the next season. As Mrs. Campbell puts it, "Next year will be much more intense in skills, concentration, and strategies. It should be lots of fun." Quick feet, good stick work, determination, and a lot of practice are the general consensus of the skills a good hockey player should have. The hardest part of hockey, for Marcy Chavez, is "working as a team and trusting that your teammates will be there for you." Nicole Bustillo concludes that her last hockey season at Del Mar, as far as the team goes, is "Superbulous!" The other two seniors, Missie Heron and Julie Russo, were honored with All-League Selection for their outstanding plays.

VOLLEYBALL

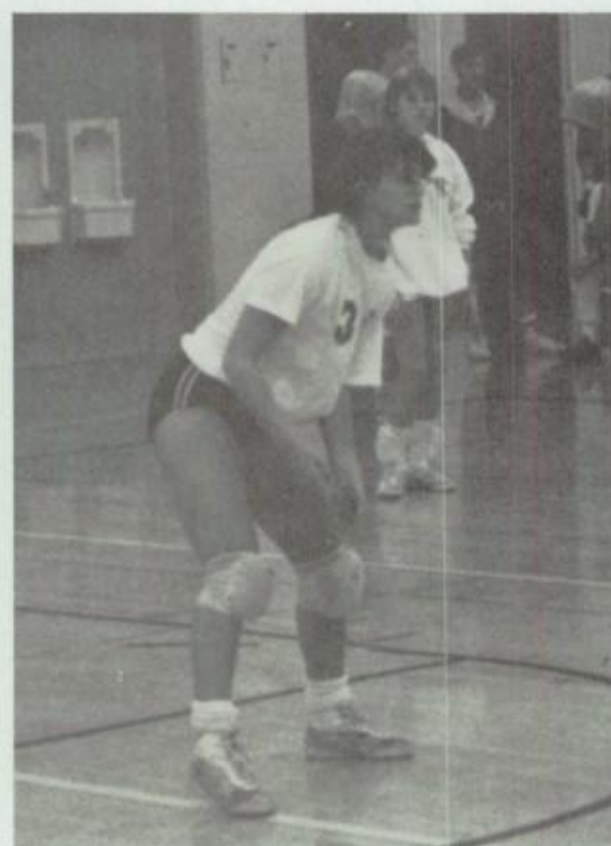

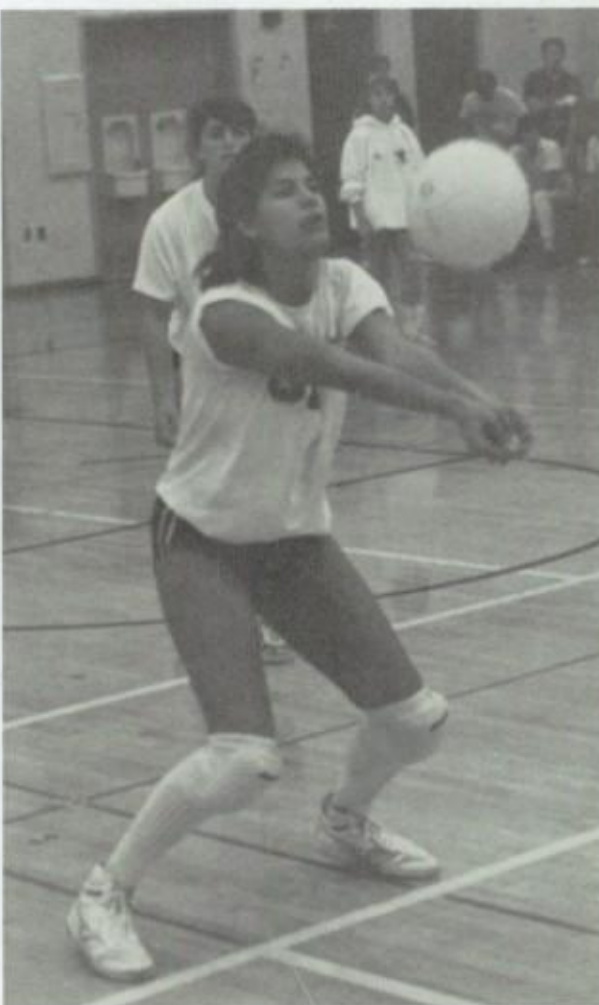

The Season Scored Big

Del Mar's Varsity Volleyball team proved yet again their skill at this sport. The season was highly successful, and the team moved steadily through the season, pitting themselves against their opponents valiantly. They beat the CCS champions twice in the season, but later lost the CCS semifinals to Los Altos. Of all the players in the league, 5 of the 6 chosen for all-league were from Del Mar. This year's most valuable players were Lynne Rocha and Dawnis Wilson. Most improved was Wendy Wilson. With much of the team leaving, it is hoped the JV will strengthen the team next year to continue to play as strong as this team.

Del Mar's JV Volleyball team proved this year to be just as successful as their varsity counterparts. Losing only two games this year, both to the powerful Los Gatos team, they placed 2nd in the league by such future varsity stars as Captain Julie McVay (88), Co-captain Marianna Besmer (90), and Most Valuable Player Tiffany McLennon (90). The future of the Junior Varsity team is not a worry, for even though many top players will be leaving to become the nucleus of next year's Varsity team, many strong freshmen will be returning to carry on the winning volleyball tradition.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Unknown Sport

You may have seen them running through the streets of San Jose, or in local parks, or even in the Del Mar bowl. But did you ever stop to think that maybe these gasping, drooling, sweating creatures were out there for any purpose? Believe it or not, there is a competitive sport here at Del Mar including such activities: cross country. And, believe it or not, this year's cross country team was a very successful part of the Del Mar athletics program.

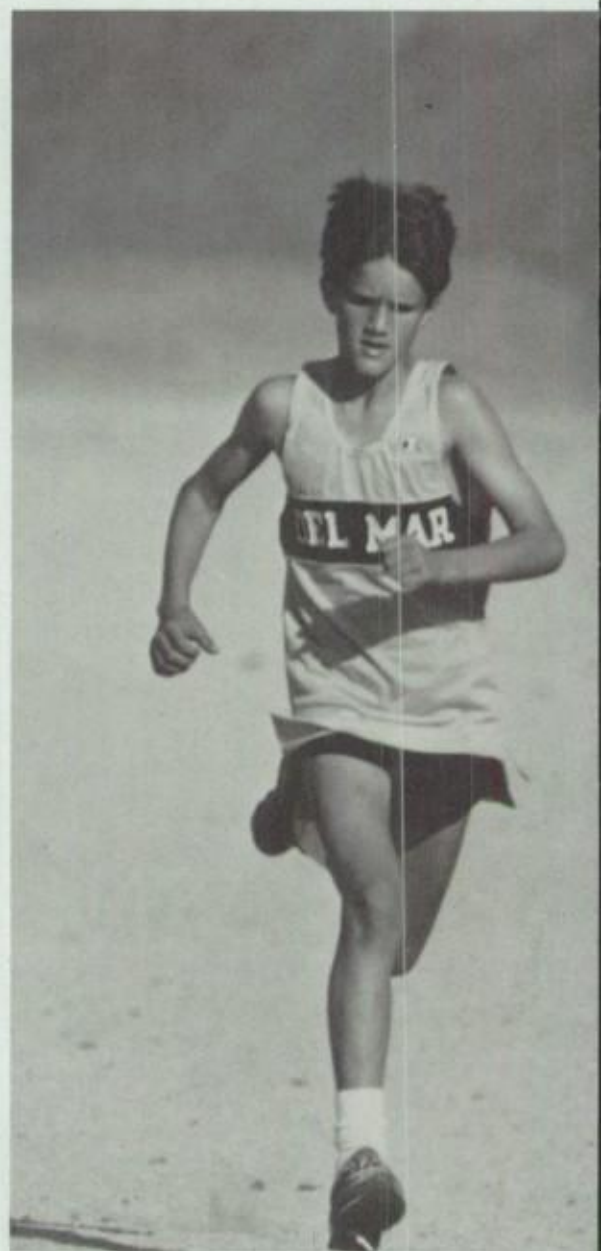

There are probably several things you didn't know about this year's team. Did you know, for instance, that this year's Varsity team, whose top five team members included Gerard Hernandez, James Rheinhardt, Dennis Fought, Chris Wheeler, and Paul Coghurn, finished 7-3 overall, placing them third in the league and qualifying them for league competition; that the F/S team, led by freshmen Dirk Larsen and Greg Granato and sophomore Chris Murphy, finished second behind the always powerful Los Gatos team; and that Gerard Hernandez, Del Mar's #1 man, finished the season undefeated in league competition, second in league finals, and second in Region III competition?

Some people seem to think that cross country is one of the less strenuous sports on campus. This is not true. It is an extremely intense, physically-demanding competitive sport. Just ask any of the runners. According to Junior Bob Simpkins, it was "the most agonizing experience of my life". Coach "Doc" Iverson kept them in this state all season long, training the runners to their limit to keep up the competitive edge. And it worked!

Coach Hamm's Girl's Team finished sixth in the league this year, due mainly to the lack of experienced competitors. Exceptions to this rule were Sr. Karen Dusthimer and Jr. Joy Dear. Both were quite successful in league competition, and Karen especially so in finals. With the return of some young and dedicated freshman and sophomore talent, the women may expect to regain some of the strength of the highly competitive teams of recent years.

DONS TENNIS

Top Players Spark Teams

The Men's Tennis team is looking forward to a very successful season. With almost every one of the top five players returning from last year, the team is looking realistically for a second place in the league behind the ever-powerful Los Gatos squad, but is of course pinning their hopes on the number one spot. This may not be too difficult, considering the talent in Del Mar's side of the court: Dana Gill, the Dons' Number 1 player, will be going for his third consecutive WVAL title, and possibly a shot at the CCS championship. Geoff Seratti and Pete Enck, numbers 2 and 3, will be in competition for the WVAL doubles title, as well as helping the team individually in season matches. Alex Galvani, the #4 player and recent transfer from Mitty and Junior veteran Pete Olsen, #5, are also expected to be great assets to the team.

The Girls' Tennis team also appreciated the taste of success. The lady Dons trained well from the beginning, and even before the school year, building up the stamina and skills that would place them as a formidable contender in the WVAL. Heading up the squad was Senior Lisa Matsushima, a league champion and contender for the CCS title. Lisa will be missed next year due to graduation, along with other top Seniors, including Lorraine Cerezo, Maggie Oberly, and Mary Meehan, but the team has a host of young strength to add to the hoped success of next year's season.

SWIMMING

Another Successful Splash

This year the swim team was composed of a variety of fine young athletes. With only a couple of seniors leaving this team, next year there will definitely be a team to look for a positive outcome. This year's team was young but consisted of a very high caliber group of swimmers. Even heating problems with the pool didn't slow down this determined bunch. Overall the varsity team had a winning season with only three losses. With a C.C.S. ranked relay that placed 30th out of its 49 competitors, the team had a good push toward a successful season. Among some of the most outstanding swimmers include: the MVP, Shana Hise, Junior; Hillary Andrade, Junior; Freedom Mahoney, Sophomore; Jennifer Garcea, Junior; and Most Improved, Debbie Burge, senior. There will definitely be a strong and experienced group next year to keep an eye on.

As for Junior Varsity, their record resulted in a very even season with four losses, four wins. Some of the more outstanding teamsters included: Kim Kerley, Junior; Jessica Valli, Junior; and Kari Kady, Junior. It's evident that many of these swimmers will make next year's varsity that much stronger.

Diving is a subject which couldn't go without recognition this year. Sarah Rettinger, Freshman, went on to rank 7th in league finals to continue on into C.C.S. Jackie Stone also shows great promise as an excellent diver. Both of these divers and the rest of the team were definitely a plus point-wise and will most likely be even more apparent next year. Hillary Estes, Junior, was quoted saying, "I really hope to get a little more psyched up for the meets next year- as a team that is." Coach Koivisto said, "I have a good outlook on next year's season." With all this going for the swim team we can look forward to a very successful season next year.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

New Coaching, New Spirit

This year, Men's Basketball received a family of excellent coaches that have known each other longer than they can remember. And with great players like Steve Anderson, Bill Lewis, Toby Wilson, and Paul Dalzachio, they were predicted to be a superb team. But come pre-season, this combination could not win (5-8). It seemed the players were not used to the new coaching technique. But coach Townsend was determined to change that and he finally got through to his players.

They entered League with a whole new spirit and Frosh-Soph players, Kevin Ferguson and Chad Oberlander. They were determined to win and they did. Team work, coaching, and pride led them to a record of 7 wins and 5 losses. Thanks, coach!

Coach Raymond Townsend pleads his case.

Team captain, Jason Allen, showed excellent ball control throughout the year.

Del Mar's Frosh-Soph team had two different seasons this year. They first began pre-season with a determination that led them to five consecutive wins and a record of 9 wins, 3 losses. Then the Dons entered League with the confidence of a championship team. After an outstanding first game, they lost their next four. They ended the season with a hard-earned and agonizing 11-13 record (including pre-season).

Coach Granados said he had never had a team with more heart and desire but with so few basketball skills. In fact, M.V.P. Jeff Bannister carried the team in talent but hurt his ankle and was out for four games. Yet, skill was something that the players would learn through long practiced drills (like the rebound drill that Ron Dorsey applies (above) on his opponent).

Now that the season is over, the players all agree that even though it was rough, they learned a lot about themselves and basketball. And they developed a pride in their school, and a respect in each other that will never die.

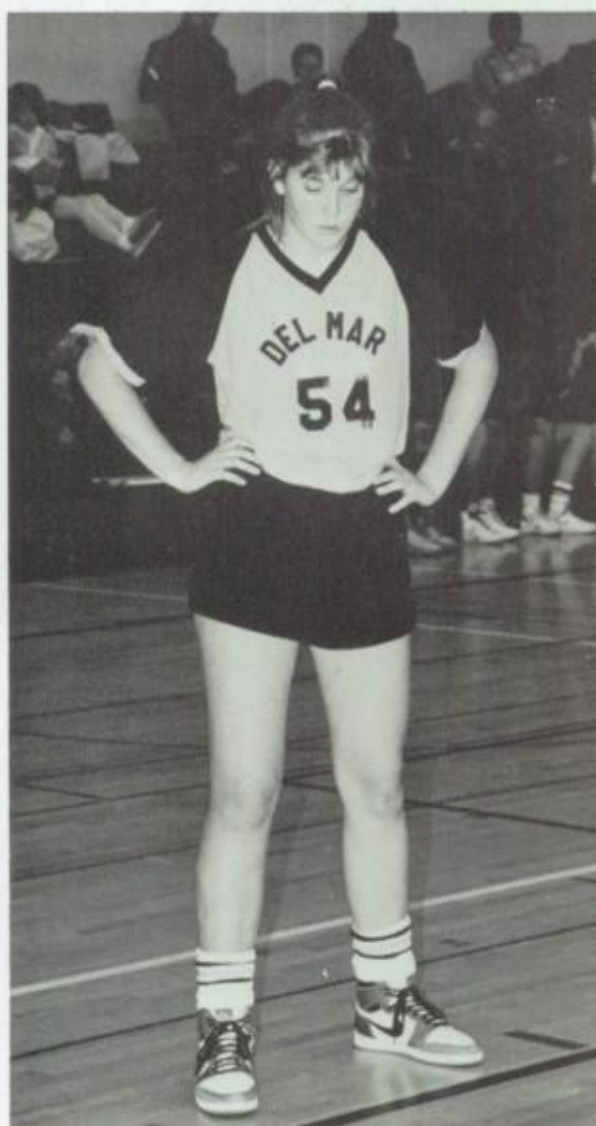

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

A Spirited Season

This year's varsity had a fairly decent season finishing with six wins, eight losses in league. As the year went on tension built-up to get closer to the top. With such an abundance of awesome talent, these players came out with a positive outlook by the end of the season. Heidi Ruud was quoted saying, "Even though we didn't come out ahead we had a real good time." The team as a whole had real high hopes and carried on with a very spirited and inspirational drive. The highlight of the season could have been any but beating Branham stuck out in most of the players minds; being they were a team placed third in league. With the talent of Dawnis and Wendy Wilson along with Julie Blanco and Mary Ann Sears the team remained strong. Dawnis Wilson received honorable mention in all-league and Wendy Wilson claimed a position on the first team all-league. Hopes for a real strong team next year are high.

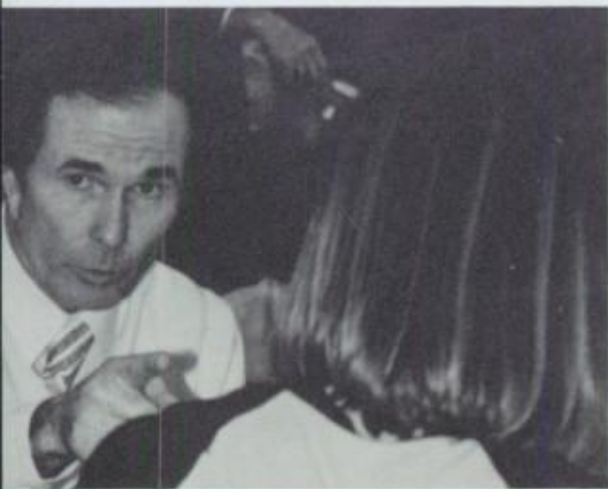

Junior Varsity had a real productive season ending even with a seven win, seven loss statistic record. The team tried real hard and finished near the top in league. The players seemed really energetic and hopes of a very good varsity team next year are probable with caliber players like Missy Bartholow, Pam Seratti, and Heather Akin. It will be interesting to see how these young players add to the strength of next years team.

DM WRESTLING

Grapplers Pin A Winning Season

It was a great year in wrestling for all those who were involved in the sport. The team finished the season 4-2 in league competition. Mike Murray exemplifies the super season with his undefeated record in the regular season, which he earned through hard work and dedication, not to mention tremendous ability and strength. Scott Landis and Kirk Walukiewicz were also great assets to the team, both proceeding, along with Mike, to the state meet. Another bolster to the strength of this year's team came from school and other outside support, which means just about anybody who saw DM's exciting wrestling team in action. Sophomore Phil Villa showed great promise this year for the future of the team, as well as Junior Eric Ichiyama, sophomores Phat and Thao Le, and freshman Greg Granato.

MEN'S SOCCER FIGHTS BACK

The players on this year's men's soccer team proved that they are not the kind to give up. Coming out of the pre-season they had an impressive record of 2-0-2, and they won their first regular season game against a very tough Prospect team. But then things took a turn for the worse, and they managed to win only one of their next 5 games. Many of the players were disappointed, but everyone decided to do their best in the upcoming matches. Coach Smare made a few line-up and positioning changes, and the team prepared to play the next six games against the teams they had just played. With decisive victories over Prospect, Westmont, Los Gatos, and Leigh, the Dons finished the second half of the season with a 4-2 record, making them 6-6 in league, and 8-6-2 overall. First-team All-League honors were given to Sr. Gerard Hernandez and Jr. Mike Papenfus, while Jrs. Dave Delcarlo and Marc Guido were named to the Second Team, and Jr. Scott Rocha received an honorable mention.

GIRL'S SOCCER

This year's girl's soccer team experienced another frustrating season. Yet, as usual, they maintained a positive attitude and stuck it out to the end. Characteristic were close, one or two-point games that unfortunately resulted in victory only twice for the Dons. Next year's team will miss such skillful and inspirational leaders as Sarah Goldstein, Julie Russo, and Mary Meehan, but will be reinforced by a whole new crew of freshmen and sophomores, as well as by returning veteran Juniors like Holly Bruce, Jennifer Lara, and Oni Pele.

BASEBALL

Experienced Vets Promise A Successful Season

In the words of Coach Mark Espinoza, the baseball team is looking forward to a "promising year." With the return of seven starting seniors, Steve Anderson, Stuart Cornick, Barry Freeman, Tom Mackean, Curt Farias, Mike Elizondo, and Wade Alexandro, along with new catcher Brett Boatright from Blackford, the team appears to be destined to fulfill that prediction. As of this writing, the Dons have broken even at 1-1 preseason competition, looking quite strong in both games. The team is definitely working hard towards that goal; there has hardly been a day since the season started that the practice diamond has been empty sooner than two to three hours after school let out. With some more training and sharpening of skills, the term "promising" will hopefully turn into "victorious".

Frosh/Soph is also looking strong, with such returning stars as Kevin Ferguson, Mike Gulizia, and Kevin Constantino, among others, bolstering the team. Along with the addition of a promising crew of freshmen, the JV's should be able to follow in the footsteps of their varsity counterparts.

The team listens to game strategy as explained by coach Mark Espinoza. Right: The Ultimate frustration: Sr. Barry Freeman reaches first base a split second too late.

Coming off two top-ten CCS seasons, this year's softball team has a hard reputation to live up to. But, considering the resources it has, it will probably keep the tradition alive. The team knows that having previous success does not at all guarantee success in the present, and the players work hard to make their team the best it can be, and if it is that, then it will be successful. Out of all the talented people on the team, some people who stand out are Junior One Pele on 3rd base, Senior Alice McGee playing center field, and the pitcher, Senior Michelle Sorci. Under the strong leadership of coaches Phillips and Dominguez, the team will most likely have a season that will be equal to or better than the past ones.

TRACK RUNS STRONG

Foreshadowing Of A Winning Season

Del Mar's varsity track team is destined for great things this season. Coaches Bob Slover and Doc Iverson are fired up for a season that will most likely result in success.

The story of the first meet tells it all. As the huge Logan team pulled up in their three chartered buses, the intimidated Dons feared the worst, and, though all the time keeping up a positive attitude, prepared themselves for what they thought would be a major embarrassment. As the meet began and progressed, however, the small yet talented Del Mar team proceeded to take firsts, seconds, and thirds in most events, and in some cases, all three. When all the scores were tallied, Del Mar was on top by no small margin. Many people contributed to the victory, and will in victories yet to come, no doubt: Mike Barbaccia and Johnny Subia in sprints; James Reinhardt and Gerard Hernandez in long distance races; Derek Maruyama in triple and long jump; Shawn Eastman and Ken Wingerden in discus and shot put; Derek Pennington and Derek Tarvin in hurdles; and Tim Channels in the high jump.

The girls' team wasn't quite so fortunate, losing the meet to Logan by only 15 points. However, the loss occurred during the absence of two prominent competitors, discus throwers Sue Schall and Mary Meehan, so the girls are also looking forward to a winning season. Others who will be racking up the points are distance runners Shana Hise and Karen Dusthimer, high jumper Michelle Mello, and sprinter/long jumper Mojgan Khalili.

The Frosh-Soph team also lost, partially due to its make-up of late comers from winter sports, but with more training and technical work will also fulfill expectations of success. Top Frosh/Soph competitors include Samong Thun and Dirk Larsen in sprints and long and triple jumps, Rich Wingerden in weight events, Chris Murphy in long distance races, and Chad Oberlander in high jump.

SWIMMING

Tough Season Ahead

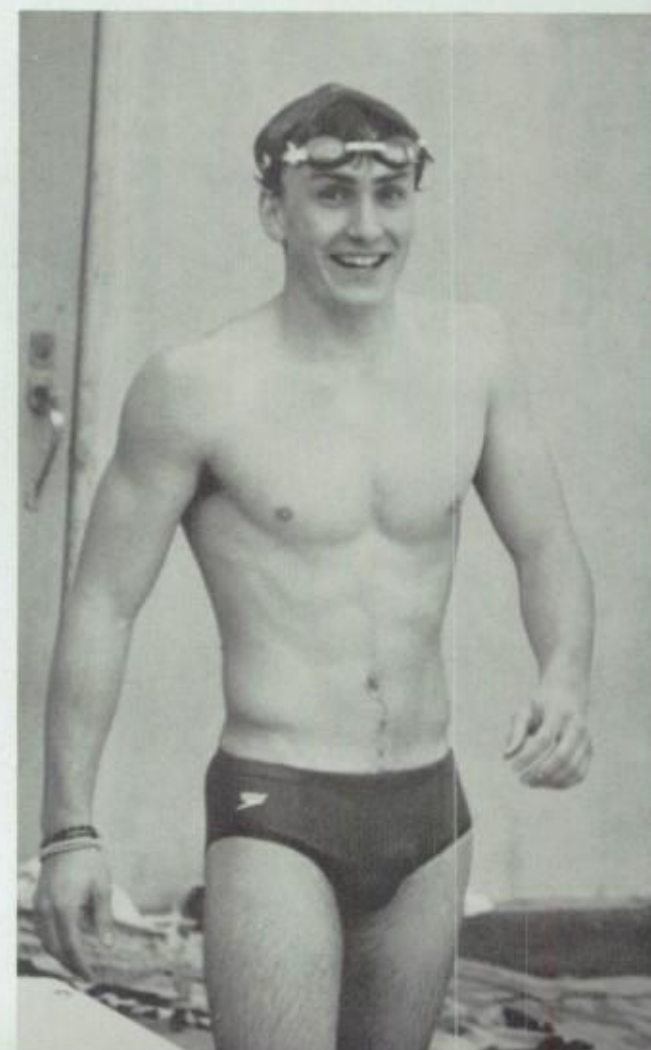

The Men's Swimming Team is headed for a tough season. With new head coach Mike Aitken working the squad like never before, the boys will be prepared for a season that promises the roughest competition they've had in awhile, as evident in their first league meet loss to a powerful Leigh team. The team will be headed up by such seasoned veterans as Jason Mahoney, Roger Knott, and Eric Emery, all Seniors, not to mention talented Junior Cale Smith. The diving team will also be putting forth their best moves, with Jr. Carl Rettinger headlining the action.

While the boys may moan and groan about the pain experienced in training every day, they know it's the only way to a successful season, especially considering the tiny size of this year's team, and hopefully the work will pay off by the end of the season.

One thing one notices about the badminton team here at Del Mar is the large number of new faces, many of which belong to freshmen. This young turnout has a lot of talent and high hopes for this season and in the years to come. The team is not made up entirely of newcomers, not by any means. Many of the players are returnees from last year's team, including top players Juniors Ingrid Su, Neda Gholamimpour, and Senior Lorraine Cerezo, all of whom, along with the rest of the team, are expected to be successful this season. Besides practicing badminton skills, the team also works to be in top physical condition for their matches and can be seen running around the track on any given day during the season. Badminton promises to remain a top sport here at Del Mar.

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN THE NEWS...

What's That Funny Smell?

Have you noticed there's something different about the school this year? No, it's not in the curriculum, faculty, or the students; but it does have something to do with the funny smell in the halls, the scraping and clanging you hear outside while class is in session, and those little men running around with paint rollers. Yes, you guessed it! We're having the school painted; and it's about time. Who's idea was it anyway to paint the school GREEN?! Maybe there was a sale on green paint at Pay-n-Pack, we'll probably never know. This year, however, they decided to go with something a little more neutral. The walls have been painted beige, and the trim has been painted brown. It really is a super paint job. It's important to appreciate this task. The paint has greatly improved the appearance of the school. Thanks guys!

Top right: The transformation from green to beige begins. Above: Reach, one, two ... Far right: There is a certain art in mixing paint. Right: "Ho-Hum, when's lunch?"

Seniors get highest CAP scores in decade

'This is a proud moment for California's schools.'

— State schools Superintendent Bill Honig

Congratulations SENIORS! Remember the test we took in the cafeteria? Remember those cute little pencils we received as encouragement? Remember the doughnuts and orange juice? Remember the pep-talk Mrs. Lawsen gave us? Well it all paid off. According to an article which appeared in the evening edition of the San Jose Mercury News on Monday, March 16, 1987, our scores on the CAP test were the highest achieved in the past ten years. There was a state-wide increase in every area of testing.

What does all this mean? Well, for one, it helps colleges determine the academic status of our high school. Doing well on the CAP test and improving the schools average may help you get into the college of your choice. Often times, too, an employer will review an applicant's high school's CAP scores to see what type of environment the applicant has been exposed to. Therefore, it is important to do your best on the test because it affects everyone.

The increase on the test this year is extremely beneficial for the graduating class of 1987 as well as for future graduating classes. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, Bill Honig, is battling Gov. George Deukmejian for a larger budget for education. The test scores show on improvement, academically, in a number of educational programs introduced by budget-cuts in the 1986-87 school year. Hopefully, Honig will be able to convince Deukmejian not to cut the budget again for the 1987-88 school year. The test scores will definitely help Honig's argument. Good job class of 1987- We're proud of you!!!

HOME OF THE DONS . . .

This is what our NEW activities "box" proudly reads. Yes, on the corner of Stokes and Del Mar Ave. there stands an activities "box". As of this year, it is a new member of the 'Del's' family.

Beside looking nice, it is helpful. Announcements about upcoming sports, social, and school events appear in the "box" weekly.

On occasion, our "box" has even had a few personal messages: "Hamm is rad", "Thanks Clem for Peer-Counseling", and "Do well and study hard for semester exams".

Mike Ammeral is responsible for getting the messages put up. He has to get them up before school upon request. Mike, you've done a great job; Thanks.
